U.S.-Britain Ready To Abolish Submarines for War

U-BOAT PROPOSAL TO BE DISCUSSED AT LONDON PARLEY

Suggestion Is One Feature of British Invitations To Five-Power Naval Conference.

AMERICA, BRITAIN IN FULL AGREEMENT

U-Boat Plan May, However, Prove Unpopular With France and Italy, It Is Feared.

BY THOMAS L. STOKES.
United News Staff Correspondent.
Washington, October 8.—(United News.)—Abolition of the submarine, one of the deadliest and most effective weapons of modern warfare, is suggested in invitations to the proposed five-power naval disarmament conference in January which were studied today in the foreign offices of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and the state department here. The invitations, sent from London yesterday, were made public at the various capitals today.

This revolutionary proposal was the outstanding feature of the invitation which emphasized that it was the Kellogg peace pact which laid the groundwork for the present move to reduce still further the world's armaments.

Full Agreement.

The invitation assured the other three powers that preliminary negotiations between the United States and Great Britain "have now reached a stage at which it is possible to say that there is no point outstanding of such serious importance as to prevent an agreement."

The United States and Great Britain agree on these principles, the invitation said:

1. The Kellogg peace pact is the starting point.
2. Parity in each of the several categories of naval vessels shall be reached by 1936.
3. Reduction of battleship replacement programs scheduled to begin in 1931 under the Washington treaty of 1922.
4. Abolition of the submarine.

As regards the submarine proposal, the invitation pointed out that both the United States and Great Britain have publicly agreed to the heretofore, and therefore this matter "hardly gave rise to discussion during the recent conversations."

The invitation emphasized that no final settlement on this point can be made until the conference. This explanation was to make it clear that abolition of the submarine merely is a proposal for the conference to consider, in order that it would not enter into acceptance of the invitations, France and Italy, especially, are insistent upon submarine to protect their communications with their colonies on the Mediterranean. This proposal will form one of the major disputed points at the conference.

The invitation sets the third week in January for beginning of the conference. It also explains that Great Britain is willing to discuss with various governments their way to accept this invitation and that the date proposed will be agreeable to them, the invitation adds.

It closes with a hope that an agreement may be reached. Great Britain, it points out, has "discovered no inclination in any quarter to set up a new machinery for dealing with the naval disarmament question, on the contrary, it is hoped that by this means a text can be elaborated which will facilitate the work of the League of Nations preparatory commission and of the subsequent general disarmament conference."

A copy of the invitation, signed by Arthur Henderson, British secretary of foreign affairs, was handed to Ambassador Dawes in London with a covering note from Henderson explaining that it was being sent to France, Italy and Japan. The United States, Henderson said, concurs in the terms of the invitations, and he merely asked Dawes to convey his impression that the United States would attend, which has been done.

The invitation thus sets out the agreement reached between the United States and Great Britain:

"One, The conversations have been one of the results of the treaty for the renunciation of war signed at Paris in 1928, which brought about a

MISTRIAL RESULTS IN MARLIN KILLING

Jury Unable To Agree On Guilt of Will Biggers, Negro, Charged With Murder.

A mistrial in the case of the state versus Will Biggers, negro, charged with the murder of Frank Marlin, locomotive engineer, was ordered Tuesday night in Fulton superior court by Judge John B. Humphries, trial judge, after the jurors reported they were unable to agree. The jury was out for two hours before it was dismissed.

In his argument to the jury, Attorney Louis H. Foster did not ask for acquittal, but pleaded for a recommendation for mercy in order that Biggers might receive a life sentence. The defense attacked an alleged confession to the murder, charging that it was obtained under duress and threats, though admitting that Biggers was on the scene when Marlin was slain. Biggers, in his statement to the jury, said that another negro had done the shooting.

Biggers declared that he and the other negro had been holding up a white man. Biggers did not want to have anything to do with it, however, because he was scared the Ku Klux would get him, he told the jury.

In presenting evidence to corroborate Biggers' alleged confession the state introduced testimony to the effect that Biggers had called up the police station, told an officer that police had the wrong man for the Marlin murder, and told the officer exactly where to find a pawn ticket for Marlin's watch and a vest torn in a struggle with Marlin. M. Lefkoff, 52 Decatur street, the pawnbroker, identified the defendant as the man who pawned the watch.

Biggers charged that the officers beat him and threatened to kill him in order to secure a confession. One of the jurors, J. M. Smith, of 408 Perry street, East Point, expressed a desire to ask Biggers a question. Attorney Foster allowed it, and the juror asked Biggers whose pistol had been introduced in evidence as the fatal weapon in the Marlin case. Biggers replied, "Mine."

It was testified that the officers found five bullet wounds in Marlin, and that Biggers, in his alleged confession, said that he had fired only four times. The extra wound was accounted for by the fact that one bullet penetrated two limbs, it was said.

The jury is composed of E. M. Brown, 1449 Stewart avenue; John Linder, Blackhawk district; R. R. Barnes, 1043 St. Charles place; J. A. Harper, 936 Boulevard, S. E.; J. Horwitz, 942 Washington; George P. Whitney, 1348 Donnelly; W. F. Sholl, 990 McLean, N. E.; J. M. Smith, 408 Perry street, East Point; John T. Connell, 636 Guest; Thomas Stokes, 848 Central avenue; W. H. Howell, 40 Boulevard; J. E. Boyd, 426 East Wesley avenue.

More than 35 jurors out of a total of 80 disqualified because of opposition to capital punishment.

ENDURANCE PLANE IN AIR 204 HOURS AND GOING STRONG

Chicago, October 8.—(AP)—The endurance plane "Chicago We Will" passed its 204th hour in the air at 3:52 p. m. tonight, and ground officials were confident that it would stay up at least ten more days.

Reports that the two fliers, whose identity has been kept secret, were John and Kenneth Hunter, of South Bend, Ind., was today denied by J. O. Hayden, Cleveland (Ohio) flight manager.

Supreme Court Asked To Rule on Seizure Of Liquor Containers

Washington, October 8.—(AP)—The supreme court was asked today to pass upon the right of prohibition agents to seize barrels, jars and other containers which might be used in illegal manufacture of intoxicants. Ike Danowitz, of Pittsburgh, brought the case.

MYSTERY WOMAN MAY BE WITNESS IN PANTAGES TRIAL

Defense Attorneys Intimate Second Woman Was in Magnate's Office With Girl Accuser.

Los Angeles, October 8.—(AP)—Intimation of a mysterious woman in the case was made by defense attorneys today in the statutory trial of Alexander Pantages, theater magnate, as they sought to break down the corroborative testimony of Frederick T. Wise, state witness.

W. L. Gordon, the first of the state's "prosecutors" to the aftermath of the alleged attack by Pantages on Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old co-dancer, brought the unidentified woman into the case during his testimony.

She was presumed to have been in the small office, scene of the alleged assault, as Miss Pringle tried to flee and was asserted to have made an effort to hold the girl captive.

During an attack on Wise's mentality in which it was shown that he once was a psychopathic ward patient, the defense inquired of Wise: "Did you see this woman?"

"Yes."

"Can you describe her?"

"About 22 to 25 years old. She was about 5 feet 5. She had dark curly hair and wore no hat."

The defense introduced hospital records showing Wise in 1926 had been confined to a mental ward with the observation that he was "mentally sick, bordering on insanity but not dangerous."

Under state examination, Wise had told of passing the theater building and hearing screams. Running to the mezzanine floor, he said, he saw the girl and a woman. He saw Gordon push the door open and the girl run out screaming "Help, help, save me!"

Later Wise testified he brought the girl back to the office.

As she approached Pantages pointed, telling at her, telling her to "shut up; keep quiet." The witness then asserted Pantages accused her of blackmail and said Pantages, shouting "She's trying to frame me!"

The witness added that the girl replied, "Don't let him say that; don't let him lie about me; don't let him say 'no'."

The defense brought out that Wise spent much of his time reading Chinese and other philosophy. The state obtained testimony that Wise, literary studies had enabled him "to pass entrance examinations at Columbia university in five subjects."

Louis Fisher, 16-year-old copy boy for a Los Angeles newspaper, was the next state witness. He testified that about 5 o'clock the afternoon of August 1, 1926, he was in the mezzanine floor, directly across and below the room where the alleged attack occurred.

"What did you do then?" Assistant Prosecutor Stewart asked.

"As I turned around I heard a scream from the little room a few steps."

"What else?"

"Then I saw a girl's hands reaching out, and then I ran down the stairs." The boy said there he met a man he knew, who he identified as the defendant, and that he followed him to the mezzanine landing. Fisher testified he saw into the little room, observing the man he identified as the defendant, and that he was "fixing his clothes."

The defense attacking the boy's testimony, brought out when he first heard the screams he saw no one but Pantages and the girl, Eunice Pringle, at the entrance of the room. He testified she was "struggling to get away."

"But you saw no one else on the landing?" the defense reiterated.

"There was one there," the boy declared.

Farmers of Georgia and the surrounding states will direct their paths today into Atlanta for the Southeastern Fair, where the day has been designated as "Farmers' Day." With the fair activities at Lakewood park steadily gaining momentum and with the cattle and agricultural exhibits this season regarded as excellent those of past years, "Farmers' Day" is anticipated to be one of the high lights of fair season.

Tuesday's events got under way with a gala parade sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Southeastern Fair Association and displaying for the first time the combined efforts of the boroughs of Greater Atlanta. Greater Atlanta Day at the fair, for which purpose Tuesday was set aside, shared in the enthusiasm engendered by the parade in the morning. Attendance at the fair was regarded by officials as high as last year, and the day was a success in every way.

The cattle exhibits, at which judging was begun Tuesday, is regarded by many as the outstanding contribution of this season. This exhibit, however, was said to be strongly contended by the poultry exhibitors, which attracted a large gathering on Tuesday. Jersey dairy breeds were judged Tuesday, while today is slated to witness the judging of beef cattle in this division. Guernsey dairy cattle will have their inning on Thursday.

Attractions at Fair.

Aside from the educational exhibits, which drew throngs of Atlantans and out-of-town visitors to the agricultural, liberal arts and textile buildings and to the numerous special displays, the center of interest Tuesday was divided between the amusement displays of the midway and those of the grandstand and race track. Horse racing and rodeo demonstrations featured the grandstand attractions of the day, and the usual fireworks brought the night to a close. The automobile races at the Lakewood track are scheduled to start Thursday and continue for the remainder of the week.

Although school children's day at the fair is to be held today, many members of the R. O. T. C. uniforms who took part in the parade for

Foxx's Homer Is First Score of Series

The score was tied nothing to nothing in the seventh inning Tuesday at Chicago when Jimmy Foxx, Philadelphia's stalwart first baseman caught hold of one of Charley Root's twisters and landed it high and far into the centerfield bleachers for a home run. It was the "break" of the game. Root later was forced out for a pinch hitter and Bush, his successor yielded what proved to be the two winning runs. Foxx is shown here crossing the plate after his jog around the bases. Bing Miller, former Cracker, who drove in the two runs off Bush is shown greeting his teammate as he crosses the plate.

DONATION TO HELP ILLITERACY FIGHT

Unnamed Philanthropist Agrees To Give One Dollar for Every Two Raised in State.

An unnamed philanthropist has agreed to donate, for every two dollars raised in Georgia to combat illiteracy, one dollar from his own personal funds.

The offer, which was announced by Dr. M. L. Duggan, state superintendent of education Tuesday, is unofficially by a restriction except that the administration of its expenditure shall be in the public school system of the state.

Simultaneously with this announcement, Dr. Duggan made known plans for a sweeping campaign throughout the state to raise funds with which to stamp out illiteracy in Georgia.

Dr. Duggan declined to reveal the source from which the donations for Georgia education would come. They were from a well-known capitalist, he said, whose philanthropic activities are administered by a specially organized corporation. He is not a citizen of Georgia or of the south.

If the legislature were in session, he said, he would approach them to obtain funds with which to bring these donations to Georgia.

Appeal to Counties.

Lacking that body to appeal to he will broadcast a request to all counties, public, private and other organizations and private individuals to share in the work of removing illiteracy from their counties.

What plan will be followed in training illiterate adults the fundamentals of reading and writing, Dr. Duggan said, has not yet been decided. He personally favors one by which the equipment and personnel of the Georgia school system would be used, the teachers receiving extra compensation for extra work with adults.

Special "opportunity" schools would be organized, he indicated, and held at hours and season convenient to those in the neighborhood.

The state superintendent stressed the need for haste in making local arrangements.

Census Record.

The next federal census, he said, would be taken in the spring or early summer of next year. If the work were well started by that time Georgia's present status of adult illiteracy, 15 per cent, or seventh from the bottom, would be appreciably diminished by the time the census was taken.

To request that all organizations or others interested communicate with him at the state capital.

Dr. Duggan also cited an act of 1920, under which the county boards of commissioners are authorized to levy a tax and make appropriations for adult education.

8 CHILDREN KILLED BY SHELL IN LAST ON BATTLE FIELD

Warsaw, Poland, October 8.—(AP)—Eight school children were killed today and several seriously injured by the explosion of a shell they had found in the village of Konarz, near Pinsk, the site of several battles during the World War. The children were attempting to unscrew the cap when the shell exploded.

VAUGHAN IS DEAD OF BULLET WOUND

Body of Former Proprietor of Cafeteria Found in Atlanta Hotel With Rifle Near By.

J. H. Vaughan, 40, of 328 Sinclair avenue, former proprietor of Vaughan's cafeteria, died early Tuesday night at Grady hospital from a bullet wound in the left chest. The bullet, fired from a small caliber rifle, lodged near the heart. The shooting occurred Tuesday morning in a downtown hotel.

An official of the hotel said that one of the maids entered Vaughan's room to change the linen and sweep, and found Vaughan on his knees, with blood coming from his chest. The maid called a neighbor, who called the police just as Vaughan toppled over in an unconscious condition, it was said. An ambulance was summoned and Vaughan was taken to the hospital.

Hospital physicians reported finding powder burns on the clothing. Vaughan, while semi-conscious, is said to have asked who shot him.

An exploded .22 caliber shell was found under the bed, the rifle being empty, and a freshly opened box of steel-jacketed shells, with one missing, was found near the bed, police said. Detectives Hugh Brown and A. G. Stone are investigating.

A number of bills, marked "Due Today," were found in the dresser in Vaughan's room, it was said. Investigators learned that Vaughan had borrowed the .22-caliber rifle to "go hunting."

Coroner Paul Donohoe said that he would empanel a jury today to investigate the death of Vaughan, but that he would not take testimony in the case until Saturday, as he is leaving the city today to be gone for several days.

The official police report, signed by Detectives Stone and Brown, said that Vaughan was unable to make any statement to them at the hospital other than that he did not know who shot him, and that he did not remember seeing anyone in the room at the time of the shooting.

Vaughan is survived by his widow, two daughters, Misses Margie and Juanita Vaughan, a son, James Vaughan, of Magnolia, Ark., and Richard Vaughan, of Emerson, Ark., and the following sisters: Mrs. Charles Greer, Mrs. Louise Green and Mrs. Hossie Lamp, of Emerson, Ark.

Funeral arrangements have been held up pending arrival of out-of-town relatives. Arrangements will be announced Thursday by Sam R. Greenberg and Company.

Threats had been made against Vaughan's life, according to A. A. Baumstark, attorney for Vaughan. Mr. Baumstark said that on one occasion an automobile full of negroes drove by Vaughan's home and made threats against him, claiming that he owed them a week's wages.

Vaughan's affairs were in fairly good shape, although some time ago he had been in financial difficulties. Mr. Baumstark said, Vaughan went into bankruptcy several months ago, and a discharge from bankruptcy was secured recently, the attorney declared. Vaughan gave up the restaurant voluntarily on a recent date, he said.

FAIR 'WHEELS' HIT BY SCHOOL BOARD

Unless Devices Are Removed, Children Will Get No Holiday Friday, Is Ultimatum.

Spinning wheels, other games of chance and gambling devices alleged to be in operation at the Southeastern fair at Lakewood park, Tuesday afternoon drew the ire of the Atlanta board of education and resulted in delivery of an ultimatum that unless the midway is cleaned up on Friday, the 60,000 Atlanta school students will not be given a holiday for the annual children's day.

Action of the board brought a scathing attack from Alfred C. Newell, president of the fair association, against "over-zealous busy-bodies and self-appointed censors." He declared that the matter could be better left to the directors of the association, already pledged against gambling in any form, and three committees representing the city government, the county and the Chamber of Commerce.

Oscar Mills, secretary and manager of the fair, declared that he and Mr. Newell today would confer with Willis A. Sutton, superintendent of schools, and Dr. McIntosh M. Burns, president of the board of education, with a view of arranging everything satisfactorily.

Members of the board unanimously passed the resolution, which was offered by George Powell, former president of the board and commissioner from the ninth ward, and which was seconded by Mrs. Paul West, commissioner from the eleventh ward.

A committee from the Atlanta Christian council, a federation of Protestant churches, presented the matter to the board without "even suggesting the remedy," and then began a deluge of motions and speeches by members of the latter body.

Beginning with mild forms of remedies such as appointment of a committee to confer with officials of the association in an effort, "to purge the midway of distracting and unwholesome influences," members vied with each other in efforts to offer more stringent regulations until, finally, Mr. Powell offered the ultimatum proposal. It met with speedy acclaim, and was carried without a dissenting ballot.

Text of the Powell paper follows: "Resolved, that the board of education goes on record as being opposed to gambling in any form anywhere on the fair grounds."

SURPRISE TWIRLER SETS NEW SERIES STRIKEOUT RECORD

Foxx Scores First Run in Seventh on Homer; Ehmke Strikes Out 13 Batters.

SCORE IS 3 TO 1 WHEN GAME ENDS

Crowd of 50,740 Fans Jams Wrigley Field as 1929 Edition of Diamond Classic Begins.

BY ALAN J. GOULD.
Associated Press Sports Writer.
Wrigley Field, Chicago, October 8.—(AP)—With a twirling masterpiece that astonished the baseball world in general and the Chicago Cubs in particular, Howard Ehmke, long, lean right-hander, slow-balled the Philadelphia Athletics to victory over the National league champions, 3 to 1, in the opening game of the world's series.

At the age of 35, when he was supposed to be well on the downward path and a second-string man at best in the A's cast of stars, Ehmke baffled the battling Bruins, justified the unexpected faith of the veteran Connie Mack and brought his triumph to a climax by smashing the world's series records for strikeouts.

When the towering, angular Ehmke, in an exciting ninth-inning finish, fanned pinch-hitter Charley Tolson for the third out with two men on bases, he choked off the last of three Cub threats in dramatic fashion with his thirteenth strikeout victim of the game.

This surpassed the former world's series of 12 strike-outs, made in 1906, by big Ed Walsh, the famous White Sox iron man, who also had the Cubs as victims on that occasion.

Just a few moments before Ehmke, hit hard in the side by a line drive from Hack Wilson's bat, had fallen to the ground, seemingly hurt at a moment when he had victory and the record in his grasp. There was a dramatic pause until he jumped up; a hurried consultation before he resumed pitching. His hopes of a shutout were blasted when the Cubs scored their only run on a two-base wild throw by Dikes on Cuyler's grounder and a single by Stephenson, but the tall moundsman finished the game in a blaze of glory.

A colorful opening day crowd of 50,740 fans, who contributed to a near record "gate" of $219,738, saw Ehmke's slow curves turn back their favorites and beat the best that Charley Root, leading finger of the National league, had to offer.

For six innings Root easily held his only run on a two-base wild throw by Dikes in the seventh for a pinch bat.

STATE ENDS EVIDENCE AGAINST SHERIFF, MEN

Attorneys Hope To Indict 13 for Murder in Strike Riot.

Marion, N. C., October 8.—(AP)—The state's attorney and attorneys for strikers at the Marion Manufacturing Company's mill here today completed evidence on which they hope to have Sheriff O. F. Adkins and 12 of his deputies held on charges of murder growing out of the killing of five men in a riot at the company's plant last Wednesday.

Coinciding with the completion of their case the solicitor, J. W. Pless, Jr., and the strikers' attorneys asked that warrants charging murder against John Snoddy and John Gowan, deputies, be dismissed. Judge W. F. Harding released the two men. Deputy Sheriff W. G. Biggerstaff was included in those dismissed, but later was re-included among the defendants. Solicitor Pless explaining that the state had been mistaken in asking his release.

The investigation was brought much nearer to an end when between 50 and 60 strikers, charged with rebellion and resisting an officer, waived a preliminary hearing and were bound over to the next regular session of the North Carolina superior court.

Immediately after that action attorneys for Sheriff Adkins and his deputies began presentation of evidence tending to show that the shots fired in the early morning battle had come from striking mill employees.

They started a parade of witnesses, mostly mill workers, who in rapid succession testified that the sound of the first shot in the fight came from where the strikers were located.

Two CAROLINA YOUTHS HELD FOR FORGERY

Knoxville, Tenn., October 8.—(AP)—Carrie Bost, 22, of Salisbury, N. C., and W. J. Giffen, of Lenoir City, N. C., were held for state action on $10,000 bonds given today after a hearing in city court on charges of forging and passing fraudulent checks.

The prosecution charged that Giffen, said by police to be a married man and a father, traveled with Miss Bost in a stolen coupe through the Carolinas and Tennessee, financing the trip by having her present checks he had written.

They denied the charge on the stand, but officers testified he had been seen in the filling station where one check had been cashed.

Her father and sister were in court but could not provide bond.

WITNESSES CLAIM ACCUSED STRIKER WAS CARRYING GUN

Charlotte, N. C., October 8.—(AP)—S. C. Davis, Lory mill overseer, and O. L. Glymph, an electrician, testified today that George Carter, one of the seven defendants on trial here on charges of murder in connection with the shooting of O. F. Adherholt, Gastonia chief of police, had tried to fire on them and a number of police officers after the shooting of the police chief.

In a search of the tent colony grounds of the Lory textile mill strikers after the tragedy on June 7, Carter was discovered under a bed in one of the tents.

As he was being dragged out, the witnesses testified, he made an effort to get his gun high enough to shoot them.

"One of the officers asked him," Davis testified, "if he shot the chief, Carter's reply was that he didn't shoot the chief but that he stopped them and that's what I was getting paid $40 a week for."

Carter, previous witnesses had said, walked out toward the chief and the four other officers when they came on the union grounds. They had put him under arrest when the firing began and Carter was slightly injured.

TAMPA DETECTIVE ARRESTED BY 'FEDS' AS RUM VIOLATOR

Tampa, Fla., October 8.—(AP)—Federal prohibition agents arrested T. M. Chevis, city detective, here today and confiscated a police car which he was driving after they charged he bought a small bottle of liquor. He was charged with possession and transportation of a pint of liquor and released under $500 bond. The detective said he bought it for a sick friend.

Agents raided the place where the liquor was alleged to have been purchased and confiscated 60 bottles of beer. They said bottles which had held liquor was broken. The alleged proprietor and an employee of the place, a taxi stand, were arrested.

SAILORS' PAY ROLL AND NAVY OFFICER VANISH TOGETHER

Charleston, S. C., October 8.—(AP)—Announcement of the disappearance of Lieutenant Charles Musel, supply corps, U. S. N., disbursing officer for the fortieth division of the destroyer squadron, with approximately $50,000 of government funds was made today by Captain W. R. Sexton, commanding officer of the destroyer squadrons.

Captain Sexton said Musel had been missing eight days. He had obtained leave of absence over Sunday and left his ship, the U. S. S. Glimmer, Saturday, September 29.

The money, Captain Sexton said, was to have been used for paying off the officers and men of the division. He said naval authorities were still seeking to apprehend Musel but had not succeeded.

OKLAHOMA OIL MEN AGREE ON CURTAILMENT

Flush Pool Operators in Full Agreement on Move.

Tulsa, Okla., October 8.—(AP)—A plan to curtail production of oil in Oklahoma for the rest of this year was approved by flush pool operators of the state in a harmonious meeting here today. Not a vote was cast against the proposal.

Under the resolution adopted by the operators, the state corporation commission will be asked to issue an order holding the state's daily average production to approximately 600,000 barrels during the more than two-month period. The potential output is estimated at 800,000 barrels daily.

The desired reduced production would be gained, under the plan, by a 20 per cent curtailment in the Logan county, Greater Seminole, Allen Dome, Sasakwa and Pearson-St. Louis areas under October 31.

Extension of the present 50 per cent proration order in the Earlsboro pool to October 31.

A curtailment of 40 per cent during November in the Oklahoma City and East Earlsboro pools and a 20 per cent proration during the month in the Logan county, Greater Seminole, Allen Dome, Sasakwa and Pearson-St. Louis areas.

A 50 per cent curtailment during December in the Oklahoma City and East Earlsboro pools and a 25 per cent curtailment in the other pools.

New Chicago Racket Hits Grape Juice

Washington, October 8.—(AP)—A new racket has appeared in Chicago whereby shipments of grape juice and grape products are obtained at less than their actual value.

Here is how the game is worked, as explained by Prohibition Commissioner Doran.

The racketeers go to the railroad yards and make a check of shipments of grape juice and grape products to obtain the names of the persons to whom they are consigned.

They then represent themselves as prohibition agents and intimidate the prospective purchasers, with the result that the shipments of beverages are not called for.

The apparent purpose of the racket, the prohibition commissioner said, is to frighten off the purchasers so the racketeers can bid the beverages at their own prices.

Chicago is the only city from which reports of the practice have been received. An investigation was made when reports were received that prohibition agents were seeking to prevent the sale of grape beverages. Doran said no government agents were involved.

STATE HIGHWAY FORCES REPAIR STORM DAMAGES

Federal highway No. 1, from Augusta to Jacksonville, and state route No. 12, Jackson to Atlanta, both of which were damaged in the recent floods, have been reopened to traffic, it was announced by the state highway department Tuesday.

Three interstate bridges at Augusta were still closed Tuesday morning. Extensive repairs will be made at the Sand Bar Ferry bridge. About 600 feet of concrete and 500 feet of timber trestle which was washed out will be replaced by steel spans. The work will require six months. The bridge is owned jointly by Georgia and South Carolina.

Pending reopening of these bridges traffic between Georgia and South Carolina is being routed by ferry's ferry, ten miles north of Augusta.

SCOTCH SELECT BOARD TO STUDY RUM SITUATION

London, October 8.—(AP)—Following the appointment of the royal commission to investigate the liquor question in England, a similar commission has been appointed for Scotland, the liquor laws of the two countries vary, Scotland already has a measure of local option.

The Scottish commission, under chairmanship of Lord Mackay, one of the senators of the college of justice in Scotland, will operate on much the same lines as the English commission. The personnel consists of men and women of very divergent callings and presumably of equally divergent views on the question to be considered. They include John Dewar, a director of a famous distillery.

STOLEN FRENCH EMBASSY GEMS FOUND BY POLICE

Berlin, October 8.—(AP)—German police today discovered jewelry valued at $20,000 which had been stolen at the French embassy while Ambassador Pierre De Margerie was attending the funeral of Dr. Gustav Stresemann on Sunday.

In a final search of the embassy, the police picked up a package, carelessly wrapped in paper, under the staircase, not a single jewel was missing.

A chauffeur reported the robbery on Sunday after finding empty jewel cases in the embassy garden. Detectives then found that a writing table in the ambassador's bedroom had been broken open and valuable jewelry removed.

DR. WEBB BOUND OVER

Dr. Webb was indicted jointly with two other Atlanta physicians, two druggists and two clerks a month ago under a similar charge, and furnished bond of $5,000.

Scream Brings Cops To Look At "Dummy"

Chicago, October 8.—(AP)—A blood-curdling scream sounded the still night air. The figure of a man lay huddled in the street.

"Keep everyone away from the body until we arrive," shouted Police Lieutenant Joe McGuire to the excited person who phoned the report.

The cops arrived. A score of persons were gathered around at a respectful distance. Women clung timidly to masculine arms and shuddered. Every body was awed.

A policeman shouldered his way through the circle and dropped to one knee beside the figure. A queer expression glided across his face. He got up and kicked the figure.

"Just a clothing store dummy," he said. The crowd dispersed, very disappointed.

Floats Feature "Greater Atlanta" Parade

delivered by Rev. N. R. High Moor at the St. Luke's Episcopal church at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

—Staff Photos by George Cornett, J. T. Holloway and Bill Mason

Floata like the two pictured above helped to make the Greater Atlanta Day parade Tuesday an outstanding success, while in the two lower pictures the photographer has caught three smiling misses at the fair and an exhibit of the cups to be awarded in the poultry show. The float at the top left was entered in the parade by the Borough of Atlanta and the one at the top right is that of the College Park Woman's Club. In the lower left picture are the Misses Ann Howe, Evelyn Whitehead and Mary Tibbitts enjoying the fair. In the lower right hand picture is Mrs. Robert N. Springfield, wife of the president of the Atlanta District Poultry Association, with the cups to be awarded to winners in the association's show at the fair. One of the cups shown was donated by The Constitution to be awarded a prize winner.

Poultry, Rabbit Shows Attract Crowds at Fair

One of the outstanding exhibits at the Southeastern Fair this week at Lakewood is the poultry and rabbit show, being held in the old dance hall, on the upper midway. The poultry show is being held in co-operation with the Atlanta District Poultry Association, which is offering 15 silver trophies to winners in the various classes. A large number of cups and trophies have been given by various Atlanta merchants.

The rabbit show is being staged by the Southeastern Fair and the Atlanta Rabbit and Cavy Breeders Club and the Georgia State Rabbit and Cavy Breeders Club.

There are more than 2,000 chickens and pigeons in the fair exhibits, more than double the number of last year.

In addition to the large number of chickens, including baby chicks, there also is a large pigeon show. A special exhibit of Georgia turkeys, something new in the poultry show here, has attracted hundreds of patrons.

A large variety of pheasants and peacocks, also a new exhibit for the Southeastern Fair, is on display in the poultry department. It was made possible through the co-operation of the Atlanta park department. The pheasants and peacocks will be taken to Grant park following the exhibit at the fair.

Several of the leading poultry equipment and food merchants in the city have attractive booths in connection with the poultry show.

A capon demonstration will be given at 10 o'clock every morning during the remainder of the week by Mrs. B. C. Davis, prominent poultry raiser. Dr. Charles Wright, well-known veterinarian, will give a lecture on Thursday and Saturday mornings on the various poultry diseases and the care of poultry. The lectures and demonstrations are free to fair patrons and are held in the poultry show.

The poultry department is under the supervision of John P. Frasch, Jr., superintendent. I. W. Taylor is superintendent of the rabbit show.

Savannah To Honor Memory Of Intrepid Pulaski Today

Savannah, Ga., October 8.—(AP)—Tomorrow Savannah honors the 150th anniversary of the death of Casimir Pulaski, brigadier general in the Continental army, who at the age of 31 years, fell mortally wounded at the siege of Savannah, October 9, 1779.

The young Polish patriot, leader of cavalry in the allied American and French forces besieging the city occupied by the British under the command of Brigadier General Prevost, fell in a desperate assault upon the British lines, riding at the head of a patrol. It was one of the sanguinary battles of the Revolution and in proportion to the numbers engaged the slain and wounded were enormous.

Mortally wounded above the right thigh Pulaski was placed aboard the brig Wasp, and despite efforts of French surgeons died and was buried at sea in the Atlantic between Savannah and Charleston, S. C.

Bishop to Chant Mass.

Tomorrow the exercises begin with a parade of military, patriotic and associate societies at 9 o'clock. A military memorial mass at which the Rev. Michael J. Keres, bishop of Savannah, is celebrant, will be held in Park extension. A great throng is expected to attend the mass, of a nature given in memory of the hero, dead and the first in memory here that has been held in Savannah.

Upon completion of the religious services, memorial talks will be unveiled in Madison square to the soldiers of the French and American forces who fell at the siege of the city, and to Captain Denis Cottineau, who commanded the ship Palles in the fight between the Bon Homme Richard and the Serapis.

The United States minister to Poland, the Polish minister to the United States, will be present.

GEORGIA FARMERS TO GATHER AT FAIR

Greater Atlanta Day were in evidence among the Tuesday crowds.

Symbolic of the united hearts and hands in Greater Atlanta, floats of the six incorporated municipalities in the newly created district of boroughs passed in review along Peachtree and Whitehall streets Tuesday morning in a colorful and gay parade.

Objects of the Greater Atlanta Day parade were to boost the Southeastern Fair and to present a composite picture of the greater city. In the vanguard of the parade rode L. N. Ragdale, mayor of the borough of Atlanta and also mayor of Greater Atlanta, and in the parade line at various points were the mayors and other city officials of the other boroughs, Decatur, East Point, College Park, Hapeville and Avondale Estates.

Bands galore furnished stirring martial music for the marchers, and, under the carefully laid plans of the officers of the parade, the units moved throughout the line of march without a hitch. Traffic congestion caused by the tie up of Peachtree and Whitehall intersections was quickly straightened out by policemen as soon as the parade passed.

Atlanta's mighty fire fighting force was represented by Chief W. B. Cady, his assistant chiefs and 40 men, together with six gaily decorated trucks. Mayor Ragdale was accompanied in his official car by Aldermen Robert Pennington and Allen Couch, and Councilmen F. H. Reynolds, Philip Breitenbacher and Wiley L. Moore.

The handsome float entered by the borough of Atlanta carried out the "Gate City" motif.

Fulton county's big float extended a welcome to Greater Atlanta. Next came the float of Avondale Estates. The College Park float carried the Georgia Military Academy band, and was followed by floats of the College Park Woman's Club, Thirty Club, and other organizations. Decatur's float was accompanied by a number of decorated automobiles supplied by civic organizations and citizens. Following the floats of the borough of East Point there came a handsome float entered by Hapeville. The Hapeville float carried a decorative model of an airplane, in token of the borough's proximity to Candler air field.

Other floats included those of the Atlanta Chamber of Commerce and industrial bureau, the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the woman's division of the Chamber of Commerce, the United States air mail, and a number of commercial floats.

Chief Mad Wolf, who is on a world tour, paraded in a handsome roadster. Military units included national guardsmen, cadet corps, R. O. T. corps, drum corps, etc. General Homer C. Parker, adjutant general of Georgia, was grand marshal of the day, and was assisted by a staff which included prominent military figures of Atlanta. The parade began at Baker street, on Peachtree, and dispersed at Trinity on Whitehall. Indians, cowboys and cowgirls from the wild west show at the fair formed a picturesque feature of the parade.

States, the naval attaché to the French legation, and other notables, both Polish and American, will attend. A trip on destroyers and the coast guard cutters Pulaski and Yamacraw will be made to sea and a memorial wreath cast upon the waters in memory of Pulaski's burial at sea.

A banquet at night at which Mayor Gordon Saussey will preside will be the closing feature of the day's celebration. Count Franciszek Pulaski, a descendant of a brother of Casimir Pulaski, is expected in the morning, accompanied by a delegation of Polish army officers and men of letters.

MINISTER, STETSON COMING BY PLANE.

Washington, October 8.—(AP)—Polish Minister Filipowicz left here today by airplane for Savannah, Ga., where he will represent the president of Poland at memorial exercises commemorating the 150th anniversary of the death of General Pulaski, Polish hero of the American Revolution.

The trip to Savannah is being made in a naval airplane, with a stop overnight at Charleston, when the plane will be refueled. Accompanying the minister were Wiktor Podolski, first secretary of the Polish legation; John B. Stetson, American minister to Poland, who will represent President Hoover at the three-day exercises; Commander Louis Sable, naval attaché of the French embassy, who will represent the French government; and Wacław Sieroszewski, noted Polish novelist and a member of the delegation sent from Poland for the celebration.

Minister Filipowicz today presented to President Hoover his credentials as special ambassador of the president of Poland for the ceremonies.

U. S.-BRITAIN READY TO ABOLISH SUBS

re-alignment of our national attitudes on the subject of security in consequence of the provision that war should not be used as an instrument of national policy in the relations of nations one to another. Therefore the peace pact has been regarded as the starting point of agreement.

"Two. It has been agreed to adopt the principle of parity in each of the several categories and that such parity shall be reached by December 31, 1936. Consultation between his majesty's government in the United Kingdom and his majesty's government in the dominions has taken place and it is contemplated that the program of parity on the British side should be related to naval forces of all parts of the empire.

"Three. The question of battleship strength was also touched upon during the conversations and it has been agreed in these conversations that subject to the assent of other signatory powers it would be desirable to reconsider the battleship replacement programs provided for in the Washington treaty of 1922, with the view of diminishing the amount of replacement construction implied under that treaty.

"Four. Since both the government of the United States and his majesty's government in the United Kingdom adhere to the attitude that they have publicly adopted in regard to the desirability of securing the total abolition of the submarine, this matter hardly gave rise to discussion during the recent conversations. They recognize, however, that no final settlement on this subject can be reached except in conference with the other naval powers.

"In view of the scope of those discussions both governments consider it most desirable that a conference should be summoned to consider the categories not covered by the Washington treaty and to arrange for and deal with the questions covered by the second paragraph of article 21 of that treaty.

"The second paragraph of article 21 provides that the United States will call a conference in 1931 to consider revision of the Washington treaty necessary in view of possible technical and scientific developments. It is the plan now to postpone that conference for further revision in 1936, so that the January conference must take action formally to this end.

U. S. AND BRITAIN IN FULL ACCORD.

Washington, October 8.—(AP)—The American government is expected to accept the invitation of the British government to the London naval limitation conference before Prime Minister MacDonald departs from the United States next Tuesday.

Simultaneously with the making public of the text of the invitation state department officials tonight began preparing the draft of the reply which will be submitted to President Hoover for his final approval.

Since the chief executive had been acquainted in advance with the text of the invitation and had approved its substance, it was a foregone conclusion that the acceptance would be without reservations.

In Full Accord.

The text itself discloses that the United States and Great Britain are in accord not only for Anglo-American naval parity by 1936, but also for continuing the ten years' holiday in capital ship construction from 1931 to 1936—when another general naval conference would be planned.

The suggestion for total abolition of submarines subject to conference with other naval powers was regarded here in some informed quarters as a possible stumbling block for the projected conference. While the United States and Great Britain are in agreement on this proposition, there are indications that Japan, France and Italy will reject it.

The French stood out at the Washington conference against any limitation on submarines, but finally agreed to a tonnage of 90,000. This type of craft is viewed by the French as essential to their national defense and a similar view has been taken by Japan and Italy.

Difficult Hurdle.

A limitation of the tonnage in this category of craft ultimately may be reached, but it is the consensus here that this question furnishes the most difficult hurdle for the representatives of the five leading naval powers.

Premier MacDonald has stated that the translation of the Anglo-American agreement on cruisers and destroyers into a binding agreement depends upon an accord among all five powers on the auxiliary war craft.

Should France and the other two stand out for unlimited submarine tonnage Great Britain might find itself in a position where it could not agree to curtail its cruiser fleet to 339,000 tons by 1936, as the cruiser is regarded as one of the effective agents against submarines.

The United States has the largest submarine tonnage of any of the nations as well as the largest fleet of destroyers. It is ready to scrap completely the undersea craft and to reduce its destroyer tonnage to around 150,000 by 1936. On these proposals Great Britain agrees subject to an agreement by the other powers.

FRENCH RESPONSE TO BE QUALIFIED.

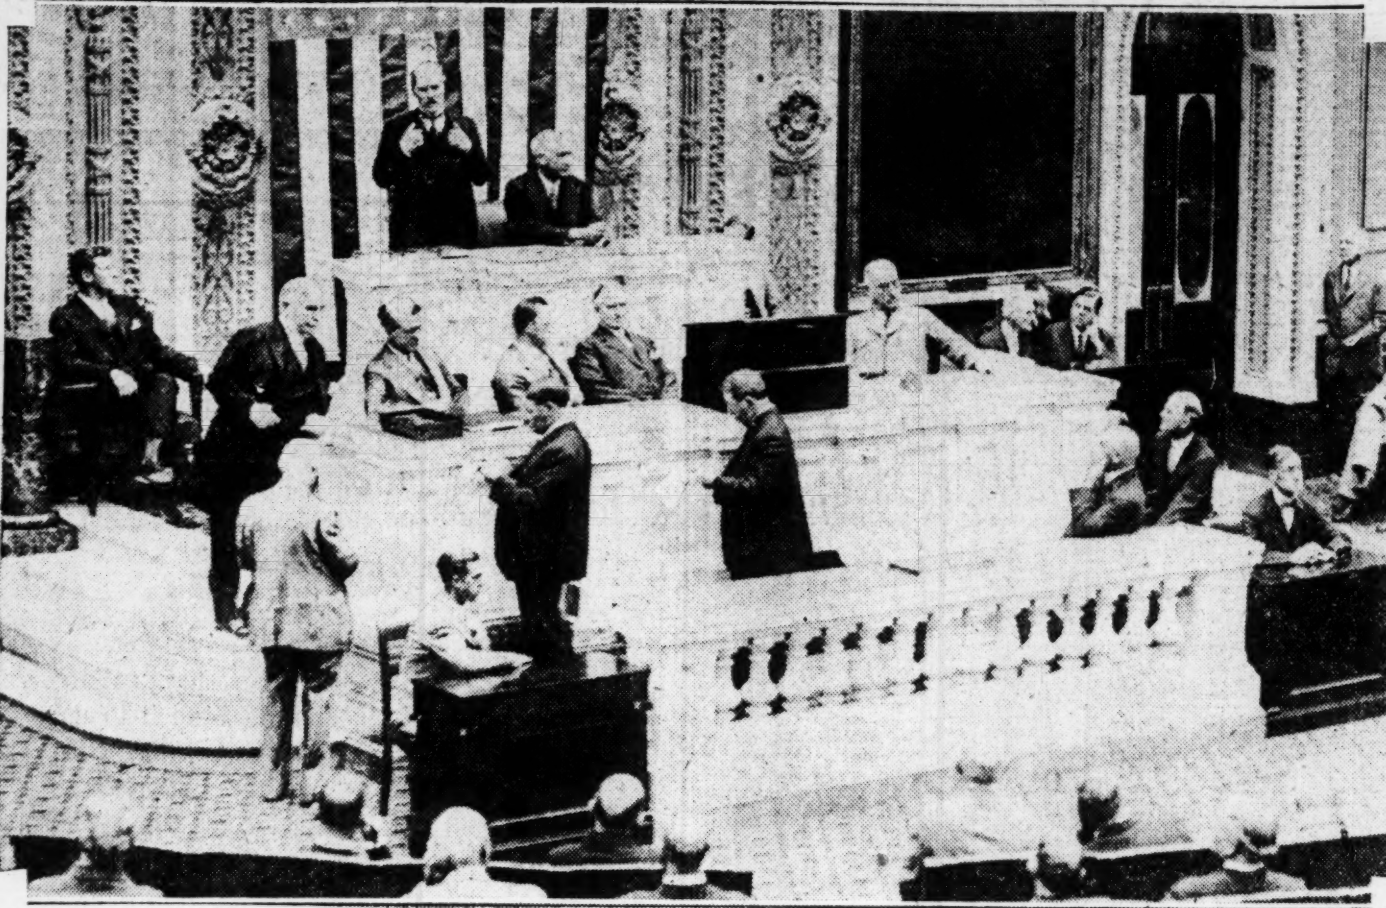

Paris, October 8.—(AP)—The French press is expected to attend a five-power naval conference early next year is likely to be a qualified conditional acceptance.

The British invitation was received today, but it is probable that no answer will be sent before October 16, the day after the next council of ministers.

The invitation, a typewritten document of four pages, raised many questions which the French feel necessary study by the interested French ministries of foreign affairs, marine and finances.

It must then be discussed by the council of ministers, under the presidency of President Doumergue, and the text of the reply must be adopted. The foreign office spent the entire

In characteristic pose, J. Ramsay MacDonald, prime minister of Great Britain, took the speaker's stand in the house of representatives, addressed that body as "fellow members of congress," and told them he considered it a very high honor to be permitted to greet them. He afterward visited the senate where he made a lengthy address, declaring the Kellogg-Briand anti-war treaty would stand out like a monument in history.

EDUCATION BOARD PREPARES TO MEET DEFICIT OF $5,000

Probability that the maintenance department of the Atlanta school system will be reduced still further to absorb an additional $5,000 deficit loomed Tuesday when Commissioner John T. Hancock, of the eighth ward and chairman of the current expenditures committee of the board, asked that the committee be empowered to rearrange the board's budget in an effort to eliminate the necessity for further cuts.

"Even with the $125,000 voted by city council to pay salaries for the last half of December, we still face an apparent deficit of about $5,000," Mr. Hancock said. "We are asking for authority to rearrange the budget to keep within the amount allocated to us. If we are unable to do this we probably will be forced to further reduce the maintenance department, which already has been cut about 50 per cent to affect various economies. Our committee is determined to end the year without a deficit."

There is a balance of $583,133.79 still in the treasury and with the $125,000 additional promised by city council pushing the total to $708,133.79, about $5,000 less than the amount which the board must have to complete the year without further reductions, it was pointed out. The committee was granted the

Just Naturally Good

Good tobaccos . . . made good by Nature, not by "artificial treatment." That's the secret of OLD GOLD's goodness

A skilled chef may be able to make a doubtful steak taste good by artificial flavoring and sauces. But it's still dangerous to your stomach.

So it is with cigarette tobaccos. "Heat-treating" is useful to "set" and "sterilize" the tobaccos . . . and all cigarette makers have used it for years. But "heat-treating" cannot take the place of good tobacco in making a honey-smooth cigarette. OLD GOLD tobaccos are just naturally good.

Carefully selected from Mother Nature's best . . . for their honey-like smoothness, flavor and freedom from throat-scratch.

You have only to try a package to get the thrill of this smoother and better cigarette. That will tell you why OLD GOLD'S sales are ALREADY THREE TIMES GREATER than the combined sales of three leading brands during a like period of their existence.

MILITIA CONTINUES TO CLEAN UP BORGER

Every Person Unable to Tell
Satisfactorily of Self Arrested.

Borger, Texas, October 8.—(AP)—Military authorities drove on today in their campaign to clean up this community in spite of the fact that their jail space was crowded and at one time yesterday became entirely inadequate.

Texas rangers and national guardsmen continued to arrest every person unable to give satisfactory account of himself. Many of those taken in were vagrants or liquor violators, although not all were considered unimportant.

To date 19 prisoners were being held indefinitely under a general order refusing them freedom until the alleged crime was here broken up. Seven officers, or former officers, have been arrested, and of these six have been charged with felonies. Two officers, Cal Baird, deputy sheriff, and Clint Millhollon, policeman, were arrested yesterday for possession of liquor.

Mayor Glenn A. Pace is under bond on a charge of having forced a witness in a murder case to leave town, and Sam Jones, a deputy constable, is charged with having accepted $20 a month from a bootlegger. D. T. Blasingham and J. D. Lee, former policemen, are charged with having liquor in their possession.

The military court of inquiry seeking to unravel the mystery surrounding the assassination almost a month ago of District Attorney John A. Holmes has given little indication of its progress, but apparently the list of witnesses is unexhaustable. Holmes' slaying was the overt-act which finally led Governor Dan Moody to declare martial law and order a thorough cleanup.

NO NEW DATA ON DISTURBANCE IN SEVERAL DAYS

Havana, October 8.—(AP)—An advisory weather report issued by Father Gutierrez Lanza, of Belen college observatory, this morning said that new perturbations west of Santa Lucia island will not give visible signs of life for the next few days. Lack of observatories or stations in that vicinity of the Caribbean and because of few boats passing that point causes a scarcity of information from that region.

French Airmen Regret Inability To Reach Tokyo

Tsitsihar, Manchuria, October 8.—(AP)—With a new world's record for long-distance non-stop flights safely made across two continents, Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte expressed today that only terrific gales and snowstorms in the region of Lake Baikal, Siberia, had prevented them reaching Tokyo from Paris.

The brilliant French airmen declared that the snowstorms nearly made their flight end in disaster. They lost their way in the blinding snowfall, which also interfered with the proper functioning of their motor.

"During the worst of the storm, I thought sure we were doomed," Coste said.

"We brought out our parachutes for the first time, adjusting the harness to our shoulders. The snow made visibility almost impossible, and the wind was the worst I ever experienced."

Bellonte had the greatest difficulty in keeping the motor running.

"The wind and snow continued violent for hours, so that we had to use much gasoline in climbing to higher altitudes and endeavoring to dodge the storm."

"I believe that if it hadn't been for the bad weather at Lake Baikal we should have reached Tokyo."

OLD SOUR DOUGH STARTS NEW GOLD RUSH IN IDAHO

Wallace, Idaho, October 8.—(AP)—A gold rush that had all the color and glamor of the early day stampedes into the wealthy Coeur d'Alene region was in progress to new "diggings" in this region today.

The announcement of an old sourdough, John Stout, one of the first to "get in" 35 years ago, that he had discovered outcroppings which assayed more than $2,500 per ton in gold, $21 in silver and $3 in copper, started the stampede to the North Fork River country, over which thousands of men trekked in the earlier rush. The "bonanza" was believed to be about 25 miles north of Prichard.

DISTRUSTING THIEVES LAND BEHIND BARS

Chicago Store Profits When Robbers Rob Each Other.

Chicago, October 8.—(AP)—The understanding was that Marshall Field & Company were to be robbed of about $1,200, but the two young fellows who conceived the idea got to robbing each other and wound up in jail without any profit whatsoever.

Laurie LaRoche, 20, helper on a Marshall Field truck, was held up at a gunpoint yesterday and forced to hand over $632 which was being transferred from one store to another. Later LaRoche admitted the robbery was a frameup and he named Harold Pemberton, 18, as his co-plottor and the holdup man. They were to divide the loot, LaRoche said.

Going deeper into the matter police learned that LaRoche, fearing the well-known double-cross, had removed $553 from the package before Pemberton arrived. He said that if Pemberton later had offered him half of the $632 he would have accepted that, too.

Pemberton, told of this, was disgusted. He called LaRoche by several inelegant titles, one of which was double-crosser.

"Thought you were pulling a fast one, eh?" he shouted at LaRoche. "Well, I was set to get most of the dough myself. I was going to be square and split the $632 with you. Then I was going to have a friend of mine hold you up and take it away again."

When Industry Employs Heat Natural Gas is the Ideal Fuel

Wherever heat is of paramount importance in industry, natural gas holds an outstanding position among fuels. Readily adaptable to quick and accurate temperature variations, it is almost indispensable in the treating of steel, the hardness, softness and flexibility of which depend upon subjection to carefully regulated heat variations.

Natural gas is flexible—it can be used to cook the family dinner in the tiny kitchen range of a modern apartment or to melt many tons of iron in a great industrial plant. It is a clean fuel, eliminating smoke, soot, ashes and coal dust. Its use does away with costly coal handling and ash removal, storage of coal and tying up of capital in fuel supply.

Southern Natural Gas Corporation is constructing an interstate natural gas transmission system, scheduled for completion by December 31, 1929. This system, which will consist of approximately 830 miles of transmission lines, will transport natural gas from the extensive Louisiana gas fields through Mississippi and the Birmingham district in Alabama to Atlanta, Georgia, and to many other large cities and municipalities. It will constitute one of the largest natural gas utilities in this country.

75 More Veniremen Called For Trial of Mrs. Powers; Only Ten Jurors Selected

Ten Men Selected So Far. Taking of Testimony Will Begin at Macon Today.

Macon Ga., October 8.—(P)—After exhausting the third panel of talesmen this afternoon, Judge H. A. Mathews of Bibb superior court ordered a recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the trial of Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Powers, charged with murder. Ten jurors had been accepted and had taken their places in the jury box at 3:40 p.m., the hour of recess.

Deputies set out immediately to summon 75 additional jurors to appear when court reconvenes tomorrow. It was the second forced recess of the day. Judge H. A. Mathews, presiding, recessed at 11 o'clock in the morning, an hour after the court had re-assembled, after the second panel, a total of 92 jurors, had been exhausted. During the lunch hour 60 new names were drawn from the jury box, and at 3 o'clock only 19 had been brought into court. Deputies reported they were unable to locate the others in so short a time.

Judge Mathews excused five of the 19, twelve of them disqualified for cause, and two were stricken, one by the state, the other by the defense. Prejudice disqualified nine of the 12 in the third panel, and opposition to capital punishment, three.

Of the 92 in the first two panels, 61 disqualified for cause, 40 for prejudice and 21 for opposition to capital punishment, the state thus far has stricken seven, the defense, 15.

The ten men selected Monday afternoon and today are looked up during the court recesses.

The two additional jurors required to fill in the trial panel will be selected from the 75 new names tomorrow. Taking of evidence may begin before noon Wednesday.

BALLOTTING TO FILL O'KEEFE'S POST RESULTS IN TIE

Voting by members of the 122d infantry, Georgia National Guard, to fill the vacancy of lieutenant colonel resulted in a tie, according to unofficial results of the contest learned Tuesday. Although the election was held Monday, Colonel Homer C. Parker, adjutant general of the national guard, stated that official results would not be announced formally until later.

Major Thomas L. Alexander and Major Charles E. Thompson are the two candidates, whose vote-battle for the post of second in command of the 122d infantry is expected to be decided at a run-over. When interviewed over the telephone Tuesday night, Colonel Gerald O'Keefe stated that, if the official results show the election to be a tie, he would call a run-over election at the earliest possible date. The minimum period for notification of election balloting allowed is ten days, he stated.

The run-over between Major Alexander and Major Thompson would decide who is to fill the vacancy of lieutenant colonel created by the promotion of Colonel O'Keefe. Formerly lieutenant colonel, Colonel O'Keefe was elected to command the 122d infantry to fill the post vacated by the resignation of Colonel Charles Cox.

BOY LOSES SUIT FOR LOSS OF FOOT AT ATLANTA PARK

James Carter, a minor, whose foot was amputated as the result of an accident at an Atlanta playground, lost out in a $10,000 damage suit against the city of Atlanta and George Lamance and W. J. Mitchell before the court of appeals Tuesday.

His petition, the court stated, joined too many causes of action against different people in one suit. Such pleading is prohibited by Section 5515 of the Georgia code.

Young Carter, together with other children, was playing about a merry-go-round at a playground on Crumley street. While investigating the mechanism of the device, he was caught in an unguarded cog wheel and his right foot was mutilated and crushed and subsequently was amputated.

He sued the city of Atlanta for negligence in leaving the cog wheel unguarded, and Lamance and Mitchell for negligence in allowing him to play in such a manner about the merry-go-round.

Flood waters having subsided and with railroad service re-established into the inundated areas, Pitcairn Aviation, Inc., Tuesday made its final trips into the isolated cities of Millen, Waynesboro, Augusta and Aiken. Pilot A. H. Comer, flying a Mailwing, collected all mail possible at Augusta Tuesday afternoon and then departed for Candler Field, winding up the service which the government and Pitcairn had rendered the stricken sections. During the heavy rains of last week and the resultant floods, overland communication with the four cities was cut off.

Visitors to Candler Field Tuesday were surprised to see a tiny figure emerge from the cockpit of a plane cruising high over the airport, stand poised for a second and then plunge earthward. The parachute opened in due course, but the jumper landed in a corn field, some little distance from the field. The unheralded leaper was Emmett Plunkett, jumping from a plane operated by "Top" Hanson, Wright engine expert with Southern Air Transport. Asked the ways and whereof of his week-day jump, without milling throngs to thrill, Plunkett replied more or less naively that the parachute had to be repacked and he decided that he would rather open it by jumping with it than do the job on cold dry days. He said he had never packed so badly, after all.

The gigantic task of moving Beeler Blivins' hangar—lock, stock and barrel—from its present location at the northeast corner of the field to his new site at the northwest corner is expected to get under way not later than Monday, Blivins said Tuesday. The work of moving should take no longer than a week. If the hangar is not moved by Sunday night, Blivins said, it will be a new record. The moving is necessitated to make room for the new brick and steel hangar Pitcairn Aviation, Inc., is to erect on the tract now occupied by Blivins. The foundation work is going ahead rapidly and actual construction is expected to get under way soon.

FAIR "WHEELS" HIT BY SCHOOL BOARD

and that unless it is given assurance that no gambling device will be operated at the fair Friday, no holiday will be granted the Atlanta public school students to attend school children's day.

Newell's Statement.

Mr. Newell's statement follows: "Our executive council passed a resolution to the effect that there would be no gambling devices at the fair this year. This resolution was passed upon the presentation of General Manager Oscar Mills, that the fair could make just as much money with games of skill as with games of chance.

"Another resolution was passed naming a committee to pass upon the midway games. The mayor appointed a committee, the county board of commissioners appointed a committee and the president of the Chamber of Commerce appointed a committee. To these three committees was left the decision as to what games should or should not be put on the midway this year.

"As president of the fair I communicated with all of these committees today, asking them to function. I have no knowledge directly as to the character of the amusements being put on just now. Under the resolution of our board, the whole matter is in the hands of these committees and subject to their direction.

"I do know that some over-zealous busy-bodies have been interfering from year to year with the situation, which from a broad standpoint could be very well left to our board of directors rather than some self-appointed censors.

Council Members Appear.

Among those who appeared for the Christian Council were the Rev. W. H. Faust, pastor of the Gordon Street Baptist church and a member of the educational committee of the council; the Rev. W. T. Hummick, former presiding elder of the Atlanta district, pastor of the Inman Park Methodist church and member of the civic committee of the council; Mrs. Marvin Williams, president of the Georgia State Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and Steve Nance, president of the Atlanta Federation of Trades, who stated he appeared as a member of the Christian Council.

Charging fair association officials with deliberate violation of agreements that there would be no gambling, speakers declared that actual gambling is being carried on along the midway and that such influences would be harmful to the minds of Atlanta school youngsters.

"For the past three years officials of the fair association have promised not to permit gambling devices to operate at the fair," Dr. Faust said. "We had verbal agreements before, but the president this year gave his written word. Monday night when I visited the midway, the concessions were wide open and inviting anyone to play.

Violation Charged.

"I do not want Atlanta school children to have a holiday Friday to witness such performances as I saw. Officials have violated their pledges flagrantly. We are interested seriously in the moral welfare of Atlanta children. We hope this board will attempt to get the fair management interested in protecting these youngsters.

CITY HALL CLOSED.

None of the papers approved Monday by city council and the aldermanic board was considered Tuesday by Mayor L. N. Ragsdale.

Tuesday was Greater Atlanta Day.

Davis Receives New Trophy

The Barber & Baldwin merit trophy awarded Doug Davis, of Atlanta, for "the most meritorious flying performance at the Cleveland national air races" last month was received by Davis Tuesday. The trophy is a special award and carries with it the distinction of having been won over the competition of Lieutenant Al Williams, the navy's famed pilot; Lieutenant Jimmy Doolittle, finest of the army's fliers; Captain Tex Rogers, U. S. M. C.; Colonel Lindbergh and dozens of the best-known civilian pilots in the nation. The cup is engraved as follows: "The Merit Trophy, presented to Douglas Davis, flying Travel Air airplanes, by Barber & Baldwin, Inc., aviation underwriters, in recognition of the most meritorious flying performance upon the occasion of the National Air Races, 1929."

At the Southeastern Fair and all departments enjoyed a half holiday. The mayor did not ask for any of the measures from City Clerk Walter C. Taylor. He will begin his study of the papers today. Among the important measures to come before him will be a recommendation from the traffic committee that the following Atlanta streets be barred to all busses except those which operate strictly within the city limits: Whitehall and Peachtree streets from Trinity avenue to Kimball street; West Peachtree street from Baker to Kimball; Ponce de Leon street from Peachtree to Moreland; Pryor street from Trinity avenue to Peachtree; Broad street from Mitchell to Lucille; Forsyth street, from Trinity to Peachtree; Mitchell street, from Spring to Pryor; Hunter street, from Spring to Pryor; Alabama street, from Forsyth to Pryor; Walton street, from Cone to Peachtree; Edgewood avenue, from Peachtree to Boulevard; Luckie street, from Cone to Peachtree; Carnegie Way, from Cone to Peachtree.

RELIABILITY TOURISTS DROP DOWN ON CAMDEN

Forty-Nine Planes Land at New Jersey Airport.

Camden, N. J., October 8.—(AP)—Being more than two score passengers in addition to the pilots and dropping out of the sky in quick succession, the 29 airplanes in the Ford reliability tour landed late today at Camden central airport, landing field for the Philadelphia area, after a short flight from Roosevelt field, New York. The pilots included three women.

The first to arrive was a Lockheed Vega monoplane, piloted by Wiley Post, and the last was Miss May Hazlip, flying an American Eagle.

Twenty other planes carrying officials of the tour and representatives of aviation concerns, landed before and after the arrival of the actual contestants.

A corps of checkers were at the field to gather the scoring data. The status of competitors in the tour does not depend on speed. The score is computed on points based on performance, load, fuel consumption, oil use. The manner of keeping score is so balanced that each ship, from the little Gypsy Moth to the great 18-passenger Condor, will have an equal chance of winning the first prize of $2,500.

EDUCATION BOARD TO RENT SCHOOL SITE FOR CIRCUS

Commissioner William C. Slate, of the second ward, chairman of the buildings and grounds committee of the education board, was instructed Tuesday to negotiate with circus companies with a view of renting a portion of the Tech High school grounds to the companies for their shows.

Flying Squirrel Is Mail Pilot's Pal

TWO MEN ARE SOUGHT FOR BEATING NEGROES

Cecil Johnson and Marion Mills Indicted on Charges of Assault.

Deputies sheriff and police Tuesday were searching for Cecil Johnson and Marion Mills, following return of indictments by the Fulton grand jury charging the defendants with assaulting three negroes. The beatings were administered when the negroes denied knowledge of liquor which was said to have been missing from a cache, it was stated at the solicitor general's office.

Indictments returned by the grand jury charge Johnson and Mills jointly with assault with intent to murder and robbery of George Cook, negro, of 24 Piedmont, N. E., and assault with intent to murder Mary Green, negro woman, of 200 Ellis, N. E. Cook and the Green woman were "taken for a ride," and severely beaten in a local garage, it was said. Cook was robbed of $14, according to one indictment.

After being beaten, Cook was dressed in other clothes and carried to a hospital, where attaches were told that he had "met with an accident," it was said. All of the negroes were warned that they would meet with further misfortune if they "squealed," it was said.

Mills was indicted for carrying a pistol, and Johnson was indicted on a similar charge. Both men were indicted on charges of pointing pistols at other persons not in their own defense. In addition, Mills was indicted for assault and battery on George Cook, Mary Green, Joe Willie Green, and was indicted jointly with Willie Flint for assault with intent to murder Joe Willie Green.

Johnson was indicted also for assault and battery on George Cook and Mary Green. Detectives J. N. Starnes and Pat Campbell investigated the case.

U. S. IS 'MARKING TIME' IN MANLEY CASE PROBE

New Witnesses To Be Summoned To Establish Condition of Defendant.

New developments in the investigation into the alleged conspiracy to prevent the trial of W. D. Manley, former Atlanta banker, set for next Monday, are not expected for several days, United States District Attorney Clint W. Hager announced Tuesday.

Additional witnesses are to be summoned, Mr. Hager said, and will be questioned before the grand jury in an effort to shatter previous testimony offered by the defense to indicate that Manley is physically and mentally unable to stand the strain of court proceedings.

"Details of our investigation have not taken definite shape," the district attorney added, "but we have substantial evidence to believe that there is an attempt to obstruct justice in court and we are going to continue our inquiry until we are able to determine the strength of the defense's claims."

Manley is charged with using the mails to defraud in connection with the failure of the chain of 86 banks under his control. He is now a patient at the Allen sanitarium at Milledgeville.

Negro Body Servants Feted By Veterans at Reunion

TEN CENT BILL AND STEVE GUESTS AT QUITMAN

Quitman, Ga., October 7.—(Special.)—Bill Yot, old "Ten Cent Bill," and Steve Eberhart, the latter in his hundredth year, haven't forgotten the United Confederate Veterans and the veterans today showed Bill and Steve that they have not been forgotten.

Bill and Steve, two aged negroes who went through the war at the side of their white masters, are honored guests at the annual reunion of the Georgia division, which opened here today.

At this afternoon's session Ten Cent Bill and Steve were called on to speak. Both of the negroes, almost too old and too feeble to move by themselves, were assisted to the platforms. There they talked as best they could and though their voices were barely audible to the large crowd their every word was cheered by the assembled veterans.

Campbell Quits U. S. Navy Post After 40 Years

Retirement from the United States navy department after 40 years of service was announced here Tuesday by Inspector Herbert Campbell, of the Atlanta naval material office.

Mr. Campbell expects to return to his former home at Seattle, Wash., this week. He will be succeeded here by Lieutenant Commander T. L. Schumaker, of Boston, who for the past several years has been stationed at the Boston navy yard.

Mr. Campbell came to Atlanta almost two years ago when the inspector's office was first established here. Previous to that time inspections of the southern section were conducted from the offices at Charleston, S. C., New Orleans, Philadelphia and Cincinnati.

Under Mr. Campbell's direction it is estimated that activities in this section have increased in the past year from $40,000 to $225,000.

Mr. Campbell joined the navy when he was 15 years old and has been a member of the department in some connection since that time. During the World War he was stationed at the destroyer base at Queenstown Island. He has been assigned to inspection work for the past eight years.

LINDBERGH TO END MAYA FLIGHT TODAY

Air Explorers To Return to Miami After Trip Over Wilds.

Belize, British Honduras, October 8.—(AP)—Members of the Lindbergh aerial exploration party will return to Miami tomorrow. Their last flight in search of traces of the ancient Maya civilization was made today and carried them over the western boundary of this colony with a landing in Flores lake, Peten, Guatemala.

Their flight tomorrow, by way of Comand and Havana, will complete for Colonel Lindbergh and his wife their circuit flight around the Caribbean in the interests of new international mail services of the Pan American Airways. They left Miami on the morning of September 20 and arrived here on October 4. This city has been the base for exploration flights during the past three days over the jungles of Yucatan peninsula.

Although the flight tomorrow lies over the regular commercial route, the party will still be over the ancient land of the Mayas until Comand is passed and will continue their observations.

WESTINGHOUSE LINE OF PUMPS SHOWN AT FAIR

The Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company, is demonstrating a new line of full automatic shallow well and deep water systems at the Southeastern Fair. These new water systems are designed to supply the average farm or suburban home with running water, under pressure, for general requirements.

The new water systems require no personal attention. They are made complete by the use of an automatic electric pressure switch and an automatic air volume control and pressure gauge. They are economical to run and thoroughly dependable in every feature of their performance.

There are several types of water systems in the Westinghouse line. The shallow well system has a capacity of 300 to 1000 gallons per hour at 20 to 60 pounds pressure. It is completely automatic, and combines both the storage tank and fresh water supply in one unit. It is available in four different pressure tank capacities.

Ramspeck Plans Second Honeymoon In Capital of U. S.

Washington pairs up with Niagara Falls as a spot toward which honeymoon couples direct their way. But it is unusual for a man to make his second one there—as a member of the house of representatives.

Robert C. W. Ramspeck, who received his nomination as congressman from the fifth Georgia district Tuesday, will do that when he leaves for Washington on October 18.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramspeck will repeat a journey begun by them on October 18, 1916, when they were married and set out to Washington on their first honeymoon.

At that time Congressman Ramspeck was secretary to former Congressman William Schley Howard, his campaign manager during the last race.

Mrs. Ramspeck will return from Washington after a short visit in order that the education of their two children will not be interrupted. The entire family will remove to Washington after Christmas.

Jackets Get New Plays for Use in North Carolina Game

PROGRESS SEEN IN SCRIMMAGE WITH 'DEVILS'

Williams at End—Holt and Millians Fight for Position.

By Ed Danforth.

"North Carolina cannot be working any harder for the game than we are anyhow," was the comment last night from Coach W. A. Alexander after practice was over at Tech Rose Bowl Memorial field.

Which was saying plenty and nothing at once. The Yellow Jackets really had turned in their hardest and in some respects their best work in a football scrimmage at Hall Summit, his home near here, last Saturday.

MAJOR ISSUE.

It is apparent now that instead of taking the Tarheels to the football game to be met without special preparation, the Yellow Jackets will go after the Friday game as a major issue. The word "Florida" has not been spoken on the Rose Bowl field since the week before the game with the Mississippi Aggies.

Substantiating the change in policy, work-watchers noted that a new play or two had been given the varsity. Unless memory fails that is an unusual maneuver in preparing for the second game of a season. Ordinarily the new plays are not dusted off and paraded before the third game. One imagines from this bustle of offensive preparation that the Yellow Jackets will seek to match touchdown with touchdown instead of concentrating on smothering the enemy attacks.

NOT SO THICK.

Heretofore, Tech has been armed with a formidable set of linemen; this year the front wall is not so thick—or is thicker, as you care to translate the word "thick."

Much of the scrimmage yesterday was a long defensive workout against two scrum elements in the line and end and tackle position. Coach Fiero Martin had two sets of Grey Devils in action. While one team claimed a North Carolina play at the varsity the other went into a bulldozer getting the next play. In this way plays were shot into the varsity ranks at much faster than normal speed. If the Tarheels can shoot that fast at the Yellow Jackets they will set an all-time record for running plays in a scrimmage.

SID WILLIAMS.

As a result of his showing yesterday Sid Williams probably will get the call as running mate for Tom Jones. He is fast and mean. However, the right tackle question is still before the house; Freddie Holt and "Bull" Millians worked earnestly to what might be called a dogfight.

Another scrimmage is scheduled for this afternoon, in strict privacy, as

SMITHIES LEAVE TODAY FOR ERIE

Tolbert Takes 25 Men On Trip to Pennsylvania City.

Tech High, Boys' High and University School for Boys engaged in brief, snappy signal drills Tuesday afternoon in the final preparation for games today and Friday.

Coach Claude Tolbert and 25 of his Tech high players, accompanied by the school band and several students, will leave Atlanta shortly after 6 o'clock tonight for Erie, Pa., where the strong Erie Academy eleven will be played Saturday afternoon.

Boys' High and University school will play at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at Spiller field in one of the local prep features of the week. The Tech High team, which played Friday afternoon, but due to the Tech North Carolina game it was moved up to today.

Coach and Commercial High will play Thursday afternoon at Spiller field, while Fulton High plays in Newnan, Ga. A. M. plays in Monroe, La., and Decker plays in Griffin on Friday afternoon. Russell High will play Thursday in Douglasville.

THIRD MEETING.

It will be the third meeting between Tech High and Erie, and both teams have a victory to their credit. Tech High won by 3 to 0 two years ago in Erie and last year the eastern eleven won a 6 to 0 victory at Spiller field. In both instances the home team was a heavy favorite to win, but the visitors eked out a victory.

There is little comparison between the two teams this year. Tech High lost bulk of its linemen, and Erie likewise suffered a heavy loss in the line and backfield as well. The Smithies are primed for the game. They defeated Taylor, 18 to 0, last Saturday in Chattanooga.

Boys' High presented a smooth working, mid-season form eleven last week running roughshod over Decker High, and Coach Doyal has improved his defense considerably. His eleven can hold its own in defense, but the offense showed some rough edges in its opening game. Particular attention has been given the Purple Hurricane offense during the past week.

SPEER DEVELOPS BIRDS.

Coach Frank Speer, at University, has developed a strong team despite a handicap of a small squad of candidates and the loss of several of his stars.

His team lost a three-touchdown game last Friday to Central High in Chattanooga after three of his players failed to get off a single punt. The game had started. His team played much better in the second half than in the first half.

WADE LOSES HUSKY GUARD

University of Alabama, October 8. (Special.)—Mystery shrouded the doings of Alabama's Crimson Tide Tuesday afternoon when the blinds were pulled on practice maneuvers in order to work out some plays for the heavy work of the season. About the only thing of note is the illness of John Miller, who has joined Ralph McRight in the unannounced squad. Miller, one of Alabama's huskiest guards in many moons, succumbed to the appendicitis malady after Saturday's game with the Tide and is now undergoing treatment. Both he and McRight, first-string left half, are in practice although they are being kept out of most of the heavy work.

Tom Mix, the screen cowboy, who made friends with the Tide men of 1926 out on the coast, was out for practice Tuesday to look over the Varsity. The entire varsity squad was treated to a circus party Tuesday night as a reward for their afternoon labors.

VALE SPINNERS AND LATERALS WORRY GEORGIA

Mehre Drives Squad in Long Drill and Scrimmage.

Athens, Ga., October 8.—(Special.)—Taking the field at 4:30 this afternoon the University of Georgia Bulldogs went through a scrimmage which lasted long after darkness had fallen and after the hour of 7 had passed. The scrimmage, one of the three which will be held this week in preparation for the Yale-Georgia affair here Saturday, was the longest the Mehre-coached squad has gone through so far this season.

Coach Mehre divided his varsity squad into two teams, the first being matched against the freshmen, who were on the offensive, and the second against the Red Devils, specially coached by Director of Athletics H. V. Stegeman in Yale plays, who took the defensive from the start. After the freshmen and the first team had scrimmaged for over an hour, the Red Devils and the second team fought each other at the other end of Sanford field. Coach Mehre reversed the order in which his two teams were fighting and sent the freshmen against the Red Devils, who took the defensive from the start, and the second stringers against the frosh, who likewise remained on the offensive.

SPIN PLAYS.

The first string team was defending its goal line against Coach Stegeman's strong "Rat" team, which used the Yale spin plays and passes to good advantage. The frosh and the Red Devils had been specially coached by Coach Stegeman in the Yale plays and had developed an amazing proficiency in the imitation of the varsity of Old Eli.

Keys, freshman star back, was designated to fill the shoes of Coach Stegeman's strong "Rat" team, which used the Yale spin plays and passes to good advantage. ## WAUGH STARS

When the first stringers were placed on the offensive against the Red Devils, Waugh, who scintillated brilliantly in the game with Furman here last Saturday, got off to three long runs which ended in three touchdowns for the varsity. V. Smith, at end, caught several passes which also were good for touchdowns. Cress Stelling and "Red" Maddox, first string linemen, were good at their positions.

Headquarters of the Athletic Association this afternoon announced that coaches from three Georgia military schools will be used as coaches at the Yale game Saturday. Three hundred cadets will be used and will come here in special coaches of the many trains coming to Athens Saturday.

Tech Band Gets Trip to Tulane

Georgia Tech's band, largest in its history, according to reports, is now busy practicing up for the trip to New Orleans when the football team plays Tulane in that city on October 20.

The band now has on roll 150 members and there is no "dead wood," according to A. J. Garing, the conductor.

"We now have one of the most versatile organizations in southern collegiate circles," says Garing. "We can boast of a 35-piece saxophone band. This band is the largest ever stationed WGST last Thursday night. Our jazz orchestra, directed by Jack Lanum, plays every evening in the dining hall and the concert orchestra, is heard in the dining hall every Sunday evening between 5:30 and 6:30 o'clock. In addition to these, we have a 30-piece symphonic jazz orchestra and a large drum and trumpet corps."

In discussing the trip to New Orleans Garing stated that about 80 men would go. Additional uniforms are being provided and it is hoped that new caps, lined with gold, carrying out the school colors, will be ready in time for the trip.

field. And the adage was heard no more along the line. Now the axiom has bobbed up again. They have forgotten their lesson. They think this Tech outfit is going right on winning games at home regardless.

Ehmke Beats Cubs In Series Opener, 3-1

By Frank Getty.

"Lefty" Grove posthaste to warm up. Fans who had come out to Wrigley field in greater numbers than ever before anticipating a carnival of hits, sat in polite admiration of the rather unimpressive but highly effective work of the opposing hurlers.

SPECTACULAR PLAY.

To back up such able pitching, Jimmy Dykes went over on his nose in a great, plunging tackle of a line drive from Stephenson's bat, the most spectacular infield play of the afternoon. This came in the fourth, and materially assisted Mr. Ehmke.

So it went until the seventh, when Jack Wilson came tumbling in to make one of those famous shoe-string catches, off Simmons. A moment later, Foxes raised what looked at first to be a high fly to center field. It turned out to be a high fly to the center field bleachers, a little collection of planks jutting into the outfield which Bill Wrigley, by this time may wish he had not left there. The blow and woody English's misadventure paved the way for Philadelphia's victory.

FIRST OUT OF WAY.

The Mackmen now have the all-important first game safely tucked away where it counts—in the percentage column.

But somewhere the margin of difference between the contending clubs in this world series has not been established. The Cubs, in defeat, look nearly as good as the Athletics in victory. Charley Root, chased away, will return to pitch another day. It certainly wasn't his fault.

Lefty Grove is ready and it will be no surprise if the leading pitcher of the American league draws the assignment tomorrow. The odds which favored the Athletics before the series opened have lengthened naturally since the initial victory. When Connie was able to reach into a hat and draw out a winning pitcher which none of the experts had considered as a likely participant in the series at all, every one agrees that the magic of Shibe park can make almost anything happen.

MALONE GOES TODAY.

Pat Malone will work for the Cubs tomorrow, with Taylor behind the bat and the rest of the line-up unchanged. The Athletics' pitcher may not be known until just before game time. Some of the experts believe Connie capable of sending another old-timer, an even older old-timer, J. Pius Cullen, in against the National Leaguers in the second game.

Hudson Beats Ridley, 4 and 3

Scott Hudson, Jr., popular young East Lake golfer, defeated Chick Ridley, a veteran, 4-3, Tuesday afternoon in the 36-hole match over the East Lake course for the annual club championship. Hudson succeeds Will Gunn, Jr., who was eliminated in the first round.

In the morning round of 18 holes Hudson was 5 up on Ridley and during the afternoon round he played a steady, consistent game to hold his lead.

Ridley came back much stronger in the afternoon round and won one hole back and played Hudson on practically even terms.

Hudson secured an advantage on the first nine when he went out in 37, only two over par, and had a commanding lead over Ridley, which he never relinquished.

ELIS LOOK TO TOUGH BATTLE WITH GEORGIA

Bulldogs of North Go Through Hardest Scrimmage of the Year.

New Haven, Conn., October 8.—(Special.)—Anticipating that one of the hardest games on Yale's schedule will be against the University of Georgia at Athens next Saturday, Head Coach Stevens today sent his charges through one of the most strenuous scrimmages that has been held this fall. Lasting for 35 minutes, the workout enabled all the first string men to get into action. The first team defeated the second team by the score of 14 to 0, Snead making both touchdowns and kicking both of the extra points.

Doing most of the ball-carrying, Snead ripped up the opposing line, continually breaking away for gain on gain. The star Yale halfback made several long end runs to enable the Blue team to make the score in such a short time.

The entire first team line was intact except for Stewart, who took Loefer's place, though Loefer went in for the last five minutes. Coach Stevens has been drilling the center and guards to weld them into being the strongest part of the line. The work of these three in the Vermont game justified the attention of the line coaches.

Winkler and Hickok were at the wing positions today after being out of yesterday's practice because of slight injuries. In the backfield were Gushank, Snead, Wilson and Dunn. Booth was not put in the scrimmage at all, as Coach Stevens at present believes that Booth has not been performing as well as the other backs, notwithstanding that while the sophomore back was in the game last Saturday the Yale team made six touchdowns.

All arrangements are being completed by the athletic association for the train trip of the team to Athens. Thirty-five players will make the hike, in addition to six coaches, two doctors, the team's student manager, three assistants and three trainers.

Others who will be of the official party will include H. F. Woodcock, manager of the Yale Athletic Association; J. M. Cates, director of Yale athletics; Prof. H. H. Nettleton, chairman of the Yale athletic board of control; and Paul Barnett, director of publicity of the athletic association.

Severely students will also make the southern journey, 40 by train, 20 by motor, and 10 in airplanes. There will be about three planes going down from New Haven.

'GATOR BACKS ARE SHIFTED

Bachman Seeking Better Kicking and Passing Combinations.

Gainesville, Fla., October 8.—(Special.)—The Gators spent a busy evening today going through Auburn plays in preparation for the tilt at Mountain View Friday night. Bachman insisted upon secret practice and kept spectators out of hearing distance from Fleming field.

Coach Higgins, who scouted the 'Bama Tigers at Clemson Saturday, dished up a number of formations which he believes Auburn will use against Florida in the first after-dark contest for the Gators this season. Higgins pitted his famous omelet squad against the varsity and the substitutes in the first after-dark contest for the Gators this season.

Gator followers may see a changed line-up Friday when Bachman sends his shock troops against Auburn. To-night he made radical changes in the backfield. He transferred Goodbread from the first line-up to the second and placed the big boy opposite Betha. This shifts Betha from right half to left and includes Captain Cawthon at fullback and McKewen at quarterback. The first team tonight consisted of Sauls at full, Dorsett at left half, Mills Smith at right and Crabtree at center. The change is possibly intended as an experiment to develop better kicking and passing combinations. A white football was used during the light scrimmage.

Howard Ehmke Tells Own Story of Record-Breaking Performance

'IT WAS MY DAY,' SAYS ATHLETIC PITCHING ACE

Had Control and Placed Slants Where They Couldn't Hit 'Em.

By Howard Ehmke, Winning Athletics' Pitcher, Who Fanned Thirteen Cubs, a New World's Series Strikeout Record.

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Wrigley Field, Chicago, October 8.—There are moments in nearly every lifetime when a fellow wonders just what he would do when he got into a tight pinch. One of these occasions arose today when for the first time in my sixteen years in the big leagues I got into a world series game.

It is the dream of every pitcher to twist a shutout game in the baseball classic and, although I won against the Cubs, I was somewhat disappointed at not coming through with a row of zeros against the enemy.

WAS SURPRISED. I was surprised to learn that I had set a new series record of 13 strikeouts, breaking the old mark of 12, which, singularly enough, was also made against the Cubs.

Here's how it all came about that I got the honor of pitching the opening game. On the train out from New York, I felt pretty frisky and when we got to our hotel on Monday afternoon I took a nice long walk along the lake shore.

I wasn't bothered for tickets by friends and I managed to get a sound night's sleep. In the morning I sought Connie Mack and told him I felt fit and was ready to work if he wanted me to.

Imagine my great joy when Connie, who has been a faithful friend through adversity and a lot of criticism, looked me squarely in the eye and said:

"You pitch today and you will win. Good luck."

That's all there was to it. The Cubs were surprised and so were a lot of our players, but it was really a last minute decision and I had the advantage of not knowing beforehand and worrying over the weather, the crowd and a lot of other things that wear on a fellow's nerves.

ARM ACHE. When I started to warm up before the game my arm ached and there were a lot of skeptics who thought it was a stall. Cy Perkins watched me anxiously and I looked toward the bench to see if Connie wanted to know how I felt. He was laughing and saying absolutely no attention to me.

So I jumped into the river, as they say, and started to swim for myself. Right in the first inning my shoulder started to ache again. Then English smacked a liner through the box, which I deflected toward Holey with my bare hand.

That drive hurt the second finger and I began to get nervous for the first time. It wasn't until the second inning that I started to feel right.

Hero of Series Opener

Here is the veteran Howard Ehmke, who yesterday beat the Cubs in the first game of the world series. He struck out 13 Chicago batters and set a record.

Ehmke Wins Place In Two-Bit Libraries

Series Reminds Pegler of Old Horse Who Rested Up and Won Blue Ribbon.

By Westbrook Pegler.

Chicago, Ill., October 8.—(Special.)—Some few years ago, when the horse car lines were still doing business in New York, a man bought an old white-eyed horse with most of the plush worn off at a sale of Eighth Avenue railway stock. He fed the horse egg-nogs, rubbed him with hair tonic for several weeks, and finally entered him in the New York Horse Show at the old Garden under the name of Puldek's Orphan.

Puldek's Orphan won some kind of ribbon in the show and great was the amazement of one and all when the truth of this came out.

This brings me around to the subject of Howard Ehmke, the old slow-ball pitcher who struck out 13 hitters in the first game of the world series at the Cubs' baseball plant today, winning for the A's, 3 to 1, and winning over a crowd of about 50,000 howling customers.

The Athletics gave him quite substantial aid in his work on the cold-weather field, but even so, Mr. Ehmke's personal feats were such that his name is bound to recur for years and years in the guide books of the two-bit libraries and in the fall-time reminiscences of world series historians.

NO VALUE. All this will be of very little practical worth to him, to be sure. Only this afternoon, before the start of the ball game, Mr. Cy Perkins, the Athletics' number two catcher, an elderly man of 32 years, was saying that he supposed his name had appeared in newspaper heads no less than 100,000 times but that if he were to bundle up all his clippings and take them around to the butcher's he couldn't make an even trade for a pair of pork chops. However, Mr. Ehmke doubtless feels pretty well at the present time over what he did to the Cubs and particularly to Rogers Hornsby and Hack Wilson, their heavy hitters, in the opening game of a world series which had seemed quite certain to get along without him.

Mr. Ehmke has been pitching for close on 15 years and this season he was gently but irresistibly crowded off the roster of starting pitchers for the Athletics. In fact, when the Athletics made their last regular tour of the west in August old Mr. Connie Mack, the head man of the firm, left him at home for some reason and it was generally supposed that there was nothing he could do for the team that would be worth his fare and keep on a three-week tour of the middle west.

For several seasons Mr. Ehmke had been building up a curious little business for himself as a salesman for a line of tarpaulins, suitable for covering baseball infields and football gridirons against the rain, and when a ball player begins to turn to a sideline, you may generally conclude that he feels his legs beginning to drag or his arm to creek.

MUCH MYSTERY. Old Mr. Mack made much mystery of his intentions until a few minutes before the start of the ball game, which began almost 15 minutes late, incidentally. His players came out of the tunnel about an hour before time and began popping a dozen baseballs back and forth in pairs along the side lines, pausing now and again to autograph envelopes, old laundry lists and race cards, or to pose for one or two snapshots in company with Babe Ruth, who was there in a business suit fraternizing with his late adversaries, George Walberg, the left-hander, drew on his leather jacket and sat down on the top steps of the dugout in the manner of a man who was absolutely sure he had nothing to do all afternoon. Mose Grove, the other left-hander, threw a few to Cy Perkins but not in any serious way. There were a great many inquiries for George Earnshaw, the socially prominent right-hander pitcher, who had been expected to pitch the first game, but George was nowhere around and neither was Connie Mack and all this surrounded the mystery around the Philadelphia trench.

PERKINS EXPLAINS. The elderly Perkins boy was standing by playing catch with Bing Miller and I asked him about this confusion. "I hope Ehmke pitches," Mr. Perkins said. "The people don't know what a good pitcher that fellow is when he's good, and I think he is very good just now. He is a finished product."

It almost seems that Mr. Mack left Ehmke behind in Philadelphia to drink egg-nogs and get right when the club went touring for the last time in August, for today he pitched such a game of ball as no man had ever quite equalled in certain respects in all the years that the world series have been going on.

Furthermore, he took up the delicate problem of just what Ehmke would do under hardest pressure and answered it in the most emphatic terms available to a pitcher.

A VINDICATION. I don't much care to go into this, but there was a ball game at the Yankee stadium along in June a year ago when the Yankees began to hammer Ehmke and he dropped the ball, stuffed his glove in his pocket and walked out. The Yankees were very aggressive about that time and the circumstances, caught an impression that Ehmke was not quite as tough as a pitcher should be. He was ill for some time after that and Eddie Collins, the captain, explained that he was not well that day at the Yankee stadium. But nothing he could say could vindicate Ehmke as he vindicated himself this time when he had to face Hornsby and Wilson in the third inning with runners on

A'S FLAWLESS IN FIRST GAME, SAYS SIMMONS

Veteran Ehmke Is Praised by Star Fielder for Great Game.

By Al Simmons, Athletics' Outfielder and Leading Run-Maker.

Wrigley Field, Chicago, October 8.—Well, we have that first one in the game sack. We did not tighten up; we fought the Cubs right through to the finish with lots of the old hustle. Which gives the boys on my club a lot of satisfaction.

And what a game Ehmke pitched for us! I'll tell you honestly that at no time did I feel that we would lose. Howard had all the stuff he needed in the clinches.

GREAT PITCHING. They tell me that he striking out 13 Cubs gives him a world series record. That's very fine. But, it was not the records he may have hung up that delighted me—it was the tight curve he did when the slightest slip might have cost us the game.

I am sure I never stood behind better pitching than Ehmke's in the third inning when, with McMillan on third and English on second and only one out, Howie fanned both Hornsby and Wilson. It gave me the thrill of my life.

Hornsby and Wilson didn't do any hitting in this first game of the world series. But they are great sluggers just the same. We won that American pitcher who faces them with runners on third and second must have lots of courage and fine control.

COULDN'T HIT. Ehmke seemed to make that side-arm curve of his do just what he wanted it to do every time. He slipped it across so accurately that the batters had to hit at it. Yet they couldn't touch it and he did this twice in the hot spots.

There has been considerable writing about the backswing and the Cubs' park and how it would cross our right-hand batters. But we didn't find that much of a handicap, although Root was supposed to be the pitcher who would give us the most trouble on account of his style of delivery.

We made out three clean hits off Root. I'll grant you. But we hit the ball pretty hard often enough to convince me that there is no mental handicap in this in any back-ground on Wrigley field.

FOXX WAS GREAT. Jimmy Foxx came through great in his first world series game. We boys all are proud of him. That ball he hit in the seventh, the centerfield bleachers was well hit. I am glad Jimmy showed the world that he has the power and the grit to come through in the big test.

That home run in the seventh inning rally won the ball game for the Athletics. It took a lot of guts to hit that ball. But it was a pretty break in a tight pitcher's duel usually does that. Also, it put new fight into the Athletics.

I did not make a hit. Of course that wasn't so nice to take—wearing the collar in my first world series engagement. But I will say that Hack Wilson robbed me of what felt like a real hit when he made that diving catch of my liner in the seventh inning.

NIFTY FIELDER. Wilson is a nifty centerfielder. I don't want to suggest that there was any luck in that catch he made off me. I know that it was a brilliant piece of fielding but I think I can say that I was "collared" in my first big match because Hack turned in a sensational play.

I can't find a flaw in the work of my team. It is a fact that one error robbed Ehmke of a shutout. But that doesn't matter. Again I say that what Howard was striving for was the victory. He didn't care for any personal credit. Neither did the men behind him.

I guess George Earnshaw will do the pitching for our side tomorrow. I have no idea what plans Manager Mack has in mind. But that would be my guess. And I hope that Earnshaw will do the kind of pitching we know he is capable of doing when he does start.

MALONE DUE NEXT. I suppose Pat Malone will be on the hill for the Cubs. Well, we looked over Root and Bush and while we didn't do very much to him in the way of long hitting, I do not expect that Malone will be any harder for us to hit than Root and Bush.

I have heard a lot of talk that we have one game on our side and are naturally filled with confidence and steadiness.

Cavalier Player On Injured List

(Charlotteville, Va., October 8.—(United Press.)—Bill Byrd, veteran end, probably will be lost to the Virginia Cavaliers for a month, physicians said today, after an examination of his dislocated shoulder. Byrd is a nephew of Commander Byrd, Arctic explorer, and of the governor of Virginia.

VERY CORRECT. The reason for all the mystery set up by Old Mr. Mack is not yet apparent. The Cubs undoubtedly know Mr. Ehmke was on his pay roll and hanging about somewhere, and they must have heard that he was an old ball player dating his service from the time of the Federal league.

Maybe he reckoned that the Cubs would come to work with their nerves adjusted to high velocity and would need a whole afternoon of futile thrashing to adjust their strokes to the dawdling flight of Ehmke's pitching. It was a kind of gamble, but the old man must know the mental habits of ball players by a time and whatever his idea, it was very correct at sundown when the crowd swept out of the stadium and the A's tore through the tunnel to jubilate in the showers.

Maybe he will start his second game with old John Piens Quinn, who is at least 10 years older than Ehmke and rated only as a pitcher who helps out the regulars. I saw Mr. Quinn drinking some whiskey drink on the train coming out here and it might have been egg-nog.

Coach on Rampage As Result of Defeat

(Washington, October 8.—(United Press.)—Coach Lou Little, of Georgetown, is on a rampage as a result of Western Maryland's victory last Saturday. Racial experiments are being undertaken this week in a desperate attempt to build a winning team.

SPEED EVENTS OPEN THURSDAY

Two Big Races Mark Beginning of Auto Program at Lakewood.

Two major events will mark the opening day of auto races at the Southeastern Fair starting at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in which over a dozen well known speedway, dirt track and beach drivers will compete.

Figuring to make Thursday the biggest auto race day in the history of the fair to date, the management has arranged for a free-for-all closing race to be known as the Southeastern motor derby. This will be in addition to the major race, the international sweepstakes, which will be run in three heats and in which several well known foreign stars will compete.

When the racers who are already entered for the races were advised of the added race to Thursday's card the following indicated a willingness to participate in the event:

Oscar Anderson, Arch Powell, George Lyons, Louis Schneider, George Young, Glenn Price, Benilde de Paulo, Norki Larson, Jack Murray, Swan Peterson, Jules de Rene and Joe Russo.

This entry list plus Tony Speering of Louisville and Rene DeVore of Shreveport, who entered Tuesday, will be starters in the international sweepstakes, a 17-mile event, which has every indication of having the classiest field which ever started on the Lakewood course.

Of the newcomers on the fair mile course, George Young is the most apt to show a type of speed which will please the race fans. This Milwaukee boy is a demon for speed in light cars and in his newly revamped Frontenac Special is bound to make a real impression.

The track which was too wet for the horse races Monday should be in prime shape with the harness horses and will give events pointing it down to ideal hardness for auto racing. Dust will likely be entirely taboo for if the course tends to dry up today calcium chloride will be applied and the sprinkler or fluser used to make the oval fast.

The races are under sanction of the International Motor Contest Association, the governing body of dirt track racing in America, under rules and regulations of which the July 4 annual fair races have been held.

was the one yesterday, and no doubt one of these gigantic young men will push a shoulder pad in front of the other.

Captain Harrell Rusk had to retire from scrumming and go to the training room to have Mike Chambers treat a strained muscle. Nothing serious, they say.

GREY DEVILS STRONG. Toward dusk the Varsity took the offense and ran wild through the tired scrubs.

It might be mentioned in passing that these Grey Devils certainly poured it into the leading ladies. They pushed them back over the goal line, and Pat Barron, running on one of the pet North Carolina formations, scored a touchdown.

What a lot of great experience that boys' Pat is getting; when he learns to push a book under his arm he will be the best in the league. Jerry Goldsmith, another ineligible, played end for the Grey and gave the two Varsity right tackles a miserable afternoon.

Up at the athletic office they say the North Carolina game will set a record in attendance for a second game. Prospect of a real tough contest fought on even terms and the prospect of so many Yale-Georgia patrons in town Friday contribute to the prospective sell-out.

Carolina's Best. Clemson and Duke are rated the two strongest teams in the Carolinas. But they do not meet.

Big Scout Box. Duke university's new stadium has the largest scout box in the country. It has seats for 60.

CUBS FAILED BEFORE EHMKE, SAYS CUYLER

"Our Poor Batting Coupled With Errors Helped Macks Win."

By Kiki Cuyler, Chicago Cubs Outfielder, Spectacular Hitter and Base-Stealer.

Wrigley Field, Chicago, October 8.—Much as it hurts, we have to take off our hats to Howard Ehmke and Jimmy Foxx at the close of the first day of the battling in this 1929 world's series. Ehmke's pitching for nine innings and Foxx's home run in one inning, the seventh, were the things that beat the Cubs.

I wouldn't say that it was a surprise to the Cubs that Ehmke was chosen to pitch. Of course we had heard about him and knew about his side arm and underhand curves, but we didn't expect he would be able to fool us as he did on this occasion.

Most of our fellows feel they will be glad to see him come back for another game because they don't believe he can do it again. Inability to hit in the pinches was why we lost the game. There were two or three splendid openings for us and we couldn't deliver. Maybe we were too anxious.

GREAT PITCHING. But I don't wish to take any of the credit away from Ehmke. He was a great pitcher. He was so cool and collected on those occasions when we had men on the bases, waiting for the punch to arrive that some, that it was quite apparent he knew what he was doing.

The ball he was pitching looked as big as a pumpkin at times, but it was a hard one to time. He had good control of it. We had to swing and one just couldn't get set to take a crack.

MACK PROVES MASTER MIND WITH PITCHERS

Veteran Manager Starred Baseball World But Move Was Great One.

By George Moriarty. (Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

Wrigley Field, Chicago, October 8.—Howard Ehmke pitched the greatest game of his somewhat checkered career today when he set the Cubs down in masterful fashion from the tap of the bell. The score was 3 to 1.

However, to begin my review of the game I feel obliged to put Connie Mack in the forefront of the picture what made the victory possible for his Athletics. The tall and craggy technician of the bench completely astonished the entire baseball world when he sent his rangy right-hander to the rubber in the opening game.

But Mack's great wisdom was reflected from the very first inning when Ehmke's understanding brand of hurling plainly demonstrated that the Cubs' heaviest sluggers would face a difficult task in trying to solve his peculiar delivery. The final result gave Ehmke the record for strikeouts in a world's series with 13.

This magnificent feat was not established till he waved his magic wand on Tolson, a pinch hitter, who was the last man to face him. The count tapered down to two and there when Ehmke shot just his weird subway curve ball which Tolson futtily waved at.

AMAZING FORM. Ehmke's form was amazing to everyone present. Not considered a great coz in the Mackian pitching staff, he certainly fooled his most hopeful supporters by rising to the crest in several spots that were exceedingly ticklish.

The big right-hander met his first predicament in the third inning, with McMillan and English ends of the veil were large medallions of the lace in dainty bow and flower designs. The cap of Princess and Duchess lace was caught to her hair with small clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a gorgeous bouquet of Regal lilies sprayed with valley lilies tied with white tulle.

Two decades later her daughter descended from the heights of her "auto car" to select silks for her formal presentation... stiff brocades and rippling taffetas and velvets heavy enough to "stand alone."

Following the ceremony Dr. and Mrs. Sprattling, parents of the bride, entertained the bridal party, relatives and out-of-town guests at their residence on Hines Terrace in Vineville. Georgia Man Tells How He Takes Black-Draught When Bilious.

Valdosta, Ga.—In telling how Theodor's Black-Draught has helped to keep him well, Mr. O. A. Aldrich, of this city, says:

"Black-Draught is a good medicine. I began taking it just a boy, for biliousness and as a laxative. When I get bilious, my mouth has a bad taste and I get dizzy, feel light-headed. A few doses of Black-Draught usually make me feel like new. It seems to cleanse my system of impurities, my head gets clearer, and the bad taste is gone from my mouth."

"I am a rather healthy, strong man, taking very little medicine, except for the dizziness I mentioned. It is good to know that there is a good laxative like Black-Draught to take and give quick relief."

Theodor's Black-Draught is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, of highest quality, finely powdered, carefully combined and packaged by automatic machinery.

BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

THALESSE'S TINY COUSIN.

By Thornton W. Burgess.

is responsible for the way that caterpillar looks."

Peter looked up at the leaf on which the caterpillar had been watching was still eating. That caterpillar had a back of what looked like little white eggs standing on end. A sudden idea popped into Peter's head.

"Do you mean," asked Peter, "that your little cousin laid all those eggs on that caterpillar's back?"

"No," said Thalesse, "I don't mean anything of the kind. Those are not eggs."

Peter blinked. "If those are not eggs, what under the sun are they?" he demanded.

"Cocoons," replied Thalesse. "Those are little white, silken cocoons. Didn't I tell you that one of my smallest cousins was responsible for them? Tell me how a tiny fly could lay eggs as big as those."

Peter scratched a long ear with a long hindfoot. "I didn't think of that," said he.

"You are just like most people," replied Thalesse tartly. "Very few people think. If they did a little real thinking there would be fewer questions asked."

Peter knew that Thalesse was quite right, but he was still curious and naturally he was bound to ask more questions. He was just on the point of doing this when that caterpillar stopped eating and started to come down the plant on which it had been feeding. This was going to give Peter a better chance to look at those little cocoons. When the caterpillar reached the ground Peter leaned over and looked very hard. He still couldn't get rid of the idea that those little cocoons were eggs, but he knew that Thalesse wouldn't tell him a wrong story. Now he began to wonder why those cocoons didn't fall off. There they were standing on end, and in spite of the moving about of the caterpillar they remained right where they were. Not one fell off.

"What don't you understand?" asked Thalesse.

"What keeps those cocoons on that caterpillar's back?" replied Peter.

"Oh," replied Thalesse, "each one is fastened there with a bit of silk."

"What an awful job it must have been," said Peter.

"What?" asked Thalesse.

"Why, to fasten all those cocoons," replied Peter. "I don't see how your little cousin ever did such a big job as that."

"This was too much for Thalesse. 'Do you mean to tell me, Peter,' he bit, 'that you think my little cousin put all those cocoons on that caterpillar's back?'" said she.

"Why, of course," replied Peter.

A SUITABLE COSTUME FOR MASQUERADE OR FANCY DRESS.

5236. Of all costumes none is more popular than this one of Pierrot. It suits grown up and children of all ages, is easy to develop and adaptable to almost every fabric. As portrayed two colors of satin, yellow and green were combined, with a trimming of pompons, and frills to match. Cotton prints, percale, unfinished cambric, albatross, radium silk and cotton crepe are also good for this model. The pattern supplies the cap and suit.

The pattern is cut in 5 sizes: 6-8, 10-12 years for children; 14-16 years for misses and 38-40, 42-44 inches bust measure for adults. To make the suit for a 38-40-inch size requires 8 3/4 yards of 27-inch material. The cap requires 7-8 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c in silver or stamps.

A DISTINCTIVE FROCK FOR THE GROWING GIRL.

6618. Printed and plain linen are combined in this model. Below the shaped yoke portion of a panel the right front is laid in a group of plaits. The left front and back are also joined to yoke portions, the back two showing plait fullness. The sleeve is of the bishop type, with fullness above a narrow band cuff. This pleasing frock may also be developed in jersey or wool crepe and in gingham and other wash fabrics. Checked gingham with chambray or linen for facings is suggested, as practical for this model, as a school dress.

The pattern is cut in 4 sizes: 6, 8, 10 and 12 years. To make the dress for a 12-year size will require 3 1/4 yards of 35-inch material. To make

THE GUMPS—MAKING HISTORY

THE HAWK

By ROY VICKERS

INSTALLMENT XXXIX. A FIRST CLASS CHANCE.

Mallerton, like many another practiced secondhand before him, could use the truth when it suited his purpose. He had used so much of the truth that Beresford could find no answer.

"We shan't know whether Doug is dead for so long," he muttered.

"O, yes we shall!" chuckled Mallerton. "If he lands he will immediately start trying to make trouble for the Cornelia. He can alter their course. If nothing has been heard of him by tomorrow afternoon I shall go to Warren and make arrangements for a search of the water for wreckage."

"You may take it from me, my dear Beresford," he added, with a chuckle, "that I have Warren very much in the hollow of my hand."

Dorling wasted a minute or more in a vain effort to solve the riddle. Why should the gang, after taking the most elaborate measures to put him on the mystery ship, suddenly decide to release him and even offer him an airplane, so that he should not suffer the inconvenience of having to wait until the ship made port?

There might be a trick somewhere—but more probably, he thought, the elaborate organization of the chief had overreached itself. It seemed more than probable that the wireless message was really meant to refer to some other man.

The first thing was to tell Cecily. It took him 10 minutes to find her. By this time the ship had been stopped and around him on every side was the lively buzz of rumor. It was known that the airplane was to be used, but the supposed reasons for its use were, for the most part, fantastic. When he found her she saw at once from his face that something was afoot.

"Nothing to worry about!" he hastily assured her. "The other way up." Then, lowering his voice, he went on: "As far as I can make out, the gang has suddenly gone mad. I've just received an apology from the captain and the offer of an airplane."

"Take me with you!"

"Better not! They may not really have gone mad. There may be some trick in it. They may send up one of their own men to try—" He checked himself, as he did not wish to alarm her by suggesting the possibility of the gang itself trying to shoot him down from the air. "If there are going to be any tricks I am more likely to get through by myself. It sounds brutal, but you see what I mean. If there is no trick—we'll have Scotland Yard wireless this jolly old tub within an hour or two of my landing."

"Yes, you're quite right. You'll be freer without a passenger. Do you think there really is any danger, Douglas?"

"Danger?" he echoed. "I don't suppose so. But there may be some funny business of some kind. But don't you worry. I'll wireless you as soon as I've landed, then send a message to your father. Then the real fun will begin."

At that moment there came the grinding whirr of the donkey engine. Already the airplane had been lifted. For a second their hands met, then Dorling hurried away.

He went first to his cabin and flung a few necessities into a suitcase.

Five minutes later he was climbing into the airplane—a tiny little thing that could almost have nestled in one of the wings of the giant Reindert-

Bayard that he had flown for the gang.

"They were in a devil of a hurry to get her on the water—I'd rather have had a good look at her on board," he thought as he started the engine and listened acutely while it slowly turned over. His experienced ear told him that at least there was nothing wrong with the engine.

He examined the dials, but could find no fault.

The petrol indicator showed a full tank.

He tried to pick out Cecily from the crowd on deck, but could not. He waved a salute to the Cornelia, then started in his journey to the mainland. In five minutes Dorling had climbed to a good height. He had spiraled, and for the moment had lost his bearings.

As he headed in the direction of land his eye was caught by a thin cloud of smoke in the far distance.

"Wait! That's not the Cornelia. Must be a good 20 miles away."

It was just a ship—any ship. And it did not matter in the least.

He glanced at it again.

"Why, of course! It's that destroyer that passed us before breakfast."

He was flying straight now, in the direction of the coast. He was, in fact, about to put the destroyer completely out of his mind when there came to him, crystal clear, the thought that the destroyer itself offered the quickest possible means of rescuing Cecily.

"By Jove—and to think I nearly missed a first class chance like that!" He wheeled and made southwards in the direction of the destroyer. He was able then to notice that the destroyer must have backed on her tracks. Otherwise she must have traveled a far greater distance.

"That means she's on patrol work," he reflected. "Good! She probably knows about the gang—and that will save a lot of explanation."

The commander of the destroyer certainly knew all about the gang—but it was some little time before Dorling was able to make use of that fact.

He descended half a mile ahead of the destroyer—in her own course. She slowed and drew near—dangerously near, thought Dorling.

A petty officer hailed him through a megaphone.

"Are you in trouble?"

The simplest answer, he reasoned, was to shout back. "Yes."

"We will take you—but we can't take the machine."

Both boats lowered two boats—and he wondered what the second one could be for.

"Why a man should want to fly in this part of the world beats me," he remarked. "Your engine sounded all right."

"Then what the devil d'you mean by stopping us? If you want petrol—"

A petty officer came over the side and interrupted Dorling. "I have a very urgent message."

"The tank on that plane is a fake, sir. More than four-fifths of it is cargo space. But there's nothing inside it."

DAY IN FINANCE

By
R. L. BARNUM

New York, October 8.—New York Central, Industrial Alcohol, National Biscuit and a few other stocks opened higher but the general list was down. The market was quiet, with a few scattered transactions. The first hour of trading was quiet, with a few scattered transactions. The first hour of trading was quiet, with a few scattered transactions.

Early in the noon hour call money which opened at 6 1/2 per cent dropped to 6 and the stock market began to do better. Steel common, opening at 218 3/4, dropped to 218 1/2 in the early trading, but by the end of the fourth hour was back to 221 7/8 with the rest of the market following. Strength continued the last hour.

Union of California declared a stock dividend of 4 per cent instead of the regular cash $2 dividend. This is the first important oil company in some time to take such action.

Much interest was displayed by Wall Street in the news from London that the stock exchange there had postponed indefinitely settlements in regard to Hatty stocks. We settle here for stocks bought or sold every day by 2:15 p. m. London settles only fortnightly.

The last settlement day in London came just as things began to happen in the Hatty shares. Settlement in these shares was then postponed until October 24. Now there has been another postponement until further notice. Wall Street has known for some time that the collapse of the Hatty shares was an important development in the London market. Undoubtedly the collapse in the Hatty stocks caused London selling of our stocks and also withdrawal of some funds from New York to London.

Much money made. Stock brokers have made a great deal of money since the unprecedented bull stock market started eight years ago and got well under way in 1924. However, stock brokers have their bad days. One broker here for example just bought a block of Armour. A stock when his customer really had ordered the purchase of American Tobacco A. When the mistake was discovered and corrected the broker was out $70,000.

High money is continuing to slow down some classes of building and construction work. September building permits for 15 large cities made public today foot up $96,920,000 against $136,107,000 for September of 1928. This is a decline of 29 per cent. New York showed the largest drop. For this September the figures were $31,474,000 against $57,549,000 a year ago.

Washington sent out a call today for national banks to report their condition as of October 4.

Sentiment in Wall Street changes rapidly. Only a very short time ago few could be found in the financial district here having a good word for the federal reserve. Today much favorable comment is being heard of the way the autumn credit situation has been handled by the federal reserve.

In this connection it is being pointed out that by raising discount rates from 5 to 6 per cent the New York federal reserve bank has made member banks pay off their borrowings at the federal reserve while the federal reserve at the same time has been easing credit by heavy purchases of bills in the open market. This leaves the member banks in a position to again borrow from the federal reserve if such action becomes necessary or advisable.

Following the government's monthly report indicating a crop of 14,915,000 bushels there was a drop of from $1.50 to $2.25 a bushel in cotton. This was 200,000 more bushels than the trade had estimated.

The Shenandoah Investment Trust reports for its two months and eight days of September 30 net profits of $4,424,000 equal to 62 cents a share on the common stock. Half of this came from stock market profits.

Directors of the United States Steel Corporation meet three weeks from today to declare dividends. Last week Steel common declined to 206 1/2 against the new high for all time established last month or on September 2 at 261 3/4. A decline of 55 1/2 points in a month in a stock such as Steel common is a drastic readjustment of price. The high of last month was made in expectation of something more in the near future than the regular 7 per cent dividend.

There are good reasons for believing that at least $20 a share will be earned this year for the stock and within a month the refunding of bonds will be completed, effecting a saving from sinking fund appropriations. There is no question but that the steel corporation is in a position to give the holders of the common stock something more than the regular 7 per cent dividend.

A month ago an unexpected large decrease was reported in the unfilled orders of the steel corporation. Another monthly drop in unfilled orders is expected in the statement due Thursday. No one can tell now how far the slowing down in the steel industry will go. As long as this uncertainty remains the management of the steel corporation is likely to go slow in declaring more than the regular dividend. At today's opening price the income return on steel common paying 7 per cent dividends is 3.2 per cent. Whether that is a satisfactory return until the dividend is increased in one way or another is for the individual trader to decide. The position of Steel common might be applied in principle to a number of stocks.

In the recovery starting in the stock market from the low price levels of last week, stocks are being bought that offer an income return of more than 3 per cent. Sooner or later there is bound to be a readjustment bringing closer together the earning power of money in the open market and the income return on stocks. Either interest rates on money are coming down or the income return on stocks is going up. Readjustment may come in both directions.

ON CIGARETS

New York, October 8.—(AP)—Following the price advances last week by several manufacturers of popular brands of cigarettes, the United States Cigar Stores Company announced today that the cigarettes it had been selling at two packages for 25 cents would now sell for 15 cents a package. An announcement also was made by the Philip Morris & Co., Ltd., that it had advanced the price of one of its brands from $8 to $8.40 a thousand and on another brand from $13.25 to $13.75 a thousand.

Syndicate Makes Record.

Setting a new high record and showing an increase of $2,215,000 for the three-month period ended September 30, 1929, total resources of Investors Syndicate of Minneapolis passed the $30,000,000 mark for the third quarter of this year, according to an announcement made today by J. R. Ridgway, president of the organization. The increase for the nine-month period from December 31, 1928, to September 30, 1929, amounted to $5,527,814. Total resources of Investors Syndicate were $30,444,995.

Sugar.

New York, October 8.—The raw sugar market was dull and unchanged at 4.08 for spots duty paid with no sales reported. Advice from Havana said that bids of 2 1/2 c. a lb. on 25,000 bags of raw sugar for November-December shipment to the United States were declined by the committee.

In spot market seemed to restrict operations in raw futures and in absence of any aggressive action either way prices were within narrow limits. After some irregularity the whole list steadied a trifle on covering until near the close when partial setbacks followed with the market closing net unchanged to 1 point lower. Total sales were only 10,150 tons. December closed 2.31; January 2.27; March 2.30; May 2.34; July 2.40; September 2.40. Refined was unchanged at 5.50 for fine granulated, with second hands available at from 3.74 to 5.40. A fair withdrawal demand was reported, but new business was light.

Prison Farm Proves
Louisiana Lowlands
Suitable for Cotton

New Orleans, October 8.—(AP)—The Angola prison farm has proved conclusively that cotton can be grown successfully on the lowlands of Louisiana, Governor Huey P. Long said today.

Cotton-growing was started as an experiment at the farm, but the governor said the penitentiary farm this summer had made 500 bales of cotton from 612 acres of land, and the institution would clear a profit of $40,000 from the crop.

Tennessee Citizens' Week Is Proclaimed
By Governor Horton

Nashville, Tenn., October 8.—(AP)—Governor Horton today issued a proclamation setting aside the week of November 10-16, inclusive, as "Tennessee Citizens' Week" in accordance with a request from the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Citizen week is an annual custom and will be set aside this year in honor of Richard L. Henderson, who was head of the Pennsylvania Land Company. Through his purchases from the Indians many early Tennessee settlers gained titles to their land.

The governor asked all civic and literary clubs, patriotic organizations and public high schools and colleges to have exercises reviving the memory of Henderson.

She was charged with passing an

FIRST U. S. BUILT
ANTOGIRO SUCCESS

New Features Are Embodied
and Will Be Built Commercially.

Philadelphia, October 8.—(AP)—The first American-built autogiro, manufactured by Pitec Aircraft Inc., plant near here, has been put through its initial test flight and pronounced satisfactory, it was announced today. In virtual secrecy, the "windmill" plane, in which are incorporated new features, was wheeled from the factory in the presence of construction engineers and mechanics. Senor Juan de la Cierva, Spanish inventor of the plane, took the ship up on its first short flight. He expressed satisfaction with its performance.

The autogiro is sustained in flight by a revolving horizontal rotor or set of four vanes. The American-made autogiro has a new shape landing gear which lets the plane down with utmost ease, the manufacturers claim. Another new feature is that the motor is tilted down at a six and a half degree angle to the line of the fuselage. This was done to make easier the starting of the rotor blades.

The plane will be put through a series of tests to prove advantages of the newly-incorporated features, after which the company plans to turn out two a week in a new factory.

VANITIES STAR
UNDER ARREST
AFTER CHASE

Hartford, Conn., October 8.—(AP)—Edith Wright, 20, who does specialty numbers in Earl Carroll's "Vanties," now playing here, was arrested today after a police automobile chase through the heart of the city.

She was charged with passing an automatic traffic signal—her husband, Sidney Krans, of New Haven, is publicity director of the company that manufactures the device—with operating an automobile without a license, failing to have her car properly registered, with evading responsibility and with having a loaded revolver in her possession.

She was released after she had left $100 in cash and her automobile as bail. She will be given a hearing in police court tomorrow.

OFFICER SHOTS
TWO BURGLARS,
CAPTURES THIRD

New York, October 8.—(AP)—A Brooklyn policeman, Theobald Feltstein, caught three youthful burglars early today after a battle in which he had to shoot two of them, one perhaps mortally.

He trailed them to a house and store in Saratoga avenue, which two of them entered, leaving a lookout outside. Feltstein surprised the sentry, Victor Berlin, aged 16, and turned him over to a special officer who happened to be passing. Giving the unarmed special officer his night stick, Feltstein slipped into the house and crawled up the airshaft just as the pair were tearing off an iron bar to a window. The bar was hurled at him, narrowly missing his head.

Feltstein then opened fire and his shots felled both. Harry Becker, aged 17, will probably die. The other prisoner, Nathan Solomon, 18 years old, was struck twice in the back.

ALABAMA COUNTY
OFFICIAL RESIGNS
POST UNDER FIRE

Phenix City, Ala., October 8.—(AP)—Homer Chadwick has resigned his office as tax assessor of Russell county, Alabama, after an impeachment recommendation by the grand jury last week at Seale, it became known here today.

The inquisitorial body's presentments contained a recommendation that the assessor be impeached because of alleged excessive use of intoxicants and neglect of duty.

Governor Bibb Graves is expected to appoint a successor to Chadwick within the next few days.

CAPONE APPEAL IS WITHDRAWN FROM COURT

Philadelphia, October 8.—(AP)—The appeal of Alphonse "Scarface Al" Capone, Chicago gang leader, to free him from his one year's prison sentence for carrying a loaded pistol, today was withdrawn formally from the state superior court. No reason was given. The appeal also included Frank Cline, of Chicago, Capone's bodyguard, who was given a similar sentence. They have been in prison since last May.

Judge John E. Walsh, of the Philadelphia municipal court, who sentenced Capone and Cline, had refused to review their cases and the appeal was taken to the superior court, which was to have heard argument today.

PICKET BOAT
BEING BEACHED

New London, Conn., October 8.—(AP)—The coast guard picket boat CG-212 sank at the state pier here today as she was being beached, her hull full of water in consequence of a collision with the patrol boat CG-289 last night.

In the collision outside the harbor the CG-289 stove a hole five feet long in the CG-212 starboard side just abait of midships. The impact destroyed the CG-212 electric switch box, causing the picket boat to be put in darkness. The five men aboard, however, scrambled safely to the deck.

The CG-289 took the CG-212 in tow and brought her hers.

Captain H. H. Wolf, commander of the coast guard force and of the section base here, has ordered an investigation.

THE BEASTS OF TARZAN No. 45

Meanwhile Tarzan, as he listened to the warrior's account of the "white picaninny's" burial, believed that his little son was lost to him forever. Though his heart was nearly broken by the news, he set his teeth, more grimly determined than ever to rescue Jane, who, he was now convinced, could not be very far away. Swinging through the trees, he hastened on, and came to the Russian's camp.

But it was empty, as though newly deserted. For on the morning of Jane's escape Rokoff had been discovered stunned and bleeding within his tent. When he recovered his senses and found the girl had fled, his rage was boundless. Before he could be seized and disarmed, he had shot down several of the native sentries and some of his own men, who, he vowed, had allowed her to escape.

Then came messengers from the M'ganwazam tribe crying that the great white giant had been seen, on his way to wreak vengeance against his enemies. The blacks were terror-stricken of this creature who hunted with a fierce pack of apes and panthers at his heels. Their superstitious fears sent them scurrying into the bush. Rokoff and his few remaining sailors found themselves alone in the wilderness.

Hastily they broke camp, and were following the trail up river but a few hours when Tarzan came upon the embers of their fire. It was enough to spur him hotly forward. So it was that towards night, as Rokoff in his new camp chanced to glance toward the forest edge, his blood ran cold. What he saw was the giant figure of an almost naked white man emerging from the bush.

Your REALTOR Knows When to Sell

Your profit on the sale of real estate depends largely on when you sell.

If you sell too soon you are letting part of the profit slip through your fingers. If you wait too long your profit may be eaten into by carrying charges.

Whether to sell now or wait awhile is always a problem—but you'll be surprised at the number of decision-factors which can be mathematically determined in advance.

Your Realtor's opinion is invaluable, for it is based not on guesswork or "hunches" but on facts and figures.

Get your Realtor's advice on when to sell.

Name of Nat Harris Honored In Services at Georgia Tech

The name of the late Governor Nat E. Harris rested on a pinnacle of reverence at the Georgia School of Technology Tuesday after services there in which associates in life joined faculty, students and alumni of the college he helped to found 41 years ago in memorializing his deeds as statesman and educator.

His wife, dressed in deep mourning, and a son and a daughter were there to hear the name and works of the late governor called great. They sat with Dr. M. L. Brittain on a platform raised slightly above the broad floor of the school's gymnasium where the services were held. Beside the wife was the daughter, Mrs. Campbell Wallace, of Marietta. Some distance away on the other side of the platform sat General Walter A. Harris, of Macon, eldest son of the governor.

It was a simple service they held. Army and navy R. O. T. C. units of the college marched into the building in formation, lending a military setting wholly in keeping with the early life of Nat Harris as a soldier in the Confederacy. Students—3,400 of them—some dressed in the olive drab of the army, some in the navy's blue and others in clothes of the work-day world, took their places in seats lining the walls. All seats were taken and hundreds were left standing but they found sitting room on the wide floor of the gymnasium.

Tribute to Family.

President Brittain, presiding, presented Mrs. Harris, her son and her daughter. Instantaneously, the great audience rose and stood silently in a moment's tribute to them and to the memory of the man for whom they mourned.

As spokesman for the faculty of Georgia Tech, President Brittain recalled the college's sense of loss that the death of Governor Harris had caused. He paid tribute to the foresight of the man, who, as a young legislator in Georgia's general assembly, was largely responsible for the founding of the college. He recalled the years of service Governor Harris had given as a trustee of the school and his never-lagging interest in all Tech students.

Francis Hall Speaks.

Francis Hall, of Macon, Tech sophomore and son of a long associate of the governor, spoke the tribute of the student body. He cited the "patriotism and loyalty of Nat E. Harris" as worthy of emulation on the part of all students of succeeding years.

L. W. Robert, Atlanta architect and prominent Georgia Tech alumnus, represented the alumni.

"Georgia Tech is a monument to Nat E. Harris, and none of you could leave a finer monument," he told the students.

"I am here to lay a violet of emotion among the roses of his fame," declared John T. Boiteau, associate editor of The Atlanta Journal and long friend of the late governor. "There have been great moments in Georgia's history, and one of these was when the legislature passed Nat Harris' bill creating Georgia Tech," he added.

WILL G. MOORE SEEKS EDUCATION BOARD POST IN 13TH

Opposition for the board of education post from the newly created 13th ward developed Tuesday, when Will G. Moore, attorney, announced against Ivan Cochran, prominent furniture dealer.

Mr. Moore is a former president of the Southeastern Pythian Association and is prominent in fraternal circles. He declared he would oppose merger of the Atlanta and Fulton county schools under the present plan but would not object to consolidation if agreed to by friends of the Atlanta schools.

MRS. JULIA NELSON AND POWELL ATTEND SCHOOL BOARD MEET

George W. Powell, former president of the Atlanta board of education, who resigned that position but has not yet relinquished his seat on the board, and Mrs. Julia O'Keefe Nelson, commissioner from the sixth ward, attended the meeting of the board Tuesday afternoon. Both have been out of town for some time.
